Negro Is Cleared Of Store Holdup; Two Others Held

RENSSELAER (AP)—A Negro was cleared of charges in a $22,000 holdup of a supermarket after the arrest yesterday of two white men, one of whom police said had painted his face brown at the time of the robbery.

Police said witnesses in January erroneously identified Limmie Hudson, 34, of Schenectady, as one of those who held up the Albany Public Market here Jan. 16. The bandits escaped with cash and checks estimated to amount to $22,000.

Both White Men

Leonard J. Moxon Jr., 21, of Rensselaer, and William F. Diedrich, 48, of Albany, both white, were arrested by Albany and Rensselaer police yesterday. Police said Moxon used brown makeup on his face when he took part in the holdup.

He was charged with first-degree robbery, kidnapping, conspiracy and assault; Diedrich with conspiring to commit armed robbery.

Took Store Aide

Police said the bandits kidnapped an assistant manager of the supermarket at gunpoint and drove him around in an automobile until he agreed to tell them the safe combination.

Hudson had been in jail since Jan. 17, Harold R. Morton, 27, of Albany, a Negro, also arrested Jan. 17, still is charged with first-degree robbery and kidnapping.

Court Reserves Decision on O&W Receivers' Motion

NEW YORK (AP)—The U. S. Court of Appeals yesterday reserved decision on a motion by receivers of the bankrupt New York, Ontario and Western Railroad to compel two men to pay up a balance of $2,390,800 owing on their bid for some of its property.

The men are Sidney G. Rose and Philip L. Moskowitz, scrap metal dealers of Cincinnati. They bid a total of $2,876,000 on nine segments of the road's property, which was sold in open court last June.

They deposited $385,200. However, they balked at a court order last month to pay the balance.

The receivers, James B. Kilsheimer 3rd and Jacob Grumet, demanded through counsel yesterday that the two men pay the balance. But the partners moved for an order directing the receivers to return their deposits.

The receiver's attorney, Francis Adams, said that the would-be purchasers' attempt to back out "is clearly the drastic decline in the scrap metal market between the sale in June and the November closing date," adding: "Reduced to its essentials, this is a case where the purchasers are trying to escape the consequences of a bargain."

Rejection Likely of Soviet Charge

UN to Hear Complaint Of Planes Debate Slated On U. S. Flights

UNITED NATIONS (AP)—U. N. Security Council delegates today prepared for debate on Russia's charges—denied in Washington—that U. S. bombers were courting global war.

The 11-nation council will meet Monday on the Soviet request that it study "urgent measures" to prevent flights of American jet bombers armed with nuclear weapons toward Russian borders.

Sought Action Today

U. N. observers predicted that the charges probably would end as have similar Communist charges in the past—with overwhelming rejection.

U. S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge, council president this month, called Monday's meeting at the request of Soviet delegate Arkady A. Sobolev. Sobolev had sought a council session today but a U. N. secretariat poll of council members showed they preferred Monday, thus gaining time to check with their governments.

Gromyko Makes Charge

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko first made the charges at a Moscow news conference yesterday. He said his government knew U. S. planes with nuclear bombs flew over polar regions toward the Soviet Union.

He cited a United Press story from Offutt Air Force Base, April 7. The story described U. S. Strategic Air Command procedures in dealing with suspected radar targets.

Gromyko said nuclear war could result from the "smallest error of an American technician."

Denied by U. S.

White House Press Secretary James Hagerty labeled Gromyko's statements untrue. The State Department denied—as Gromyko charged—the United States was "conducting provocative flights over the polar regions or in the vicinity of the U.S.S.R."

The department said SAC was engaged only in practice to keep up its deterrent power and would attack only on President Eisenhower's orders. It did not dispute that U. S. bombers on training exercises sometimes fly toward Russia but said the Air Force's safeguards to prevent an unordered attack are foolproof.

Asks Urgent Measures

Sobolev asked Lodge to convene the council to consider "taking urgent measures to end the flights of the United States military aircraft carrying atomic and hydrogen bombs toward the frontiers of the Soviet Union." He expressed belief the council would "take all the necessary measures for eliminating (this) threat to the cause of peace."

The American U. N. delegation "categorically rejected" the idea that U. S. Air Force activities threaten peace.

Pine Bush Boy Shot to Death; Vly Couple in Double Tragedy

Uncle Says Child Slain Because He 'Bothered Me'; Adele Czerwinka Gun Victim, Husband Dies of Fumes

A man and his wife were found dead Friday at their secluded rural home at The Vly, about a mile and a half off Route 213.

The wife, Mrs. Adele Czerwinka, about 65, had died from a gunshot wound and her husband, Oscar, 66, from the exhaust fumes of their car, Kingston state police reported.

Cpl. Edward Shannon, BCI, who investigated, said the double tragedy occurred some time between Tuesday, when the couple was last seen, and yesterday at 11:30 a. m. when the bodies were found by neighbors.

Calls It Homicide

Coroner Michael A. Galletta today issued a verdict of homicide in the death of Mrs. Czerwinka and, following a post-mortem examination this morning a verdict of suicide in the death of her husband. The coroner said he died as a result of carbon monoxide poisoning.

Galletta also reported that Czerwinka had killed the dog with a bullet.

Cpl. Shannon said Czerwinka had told neighbors some time ago that he wanted to kill his wife and himself because he could not bear to see her suffering from Parkinson's disease, a form of paralysis.

The neighbors apparently discounted any such intention, he said.

Shot in Left Temple

Cpl. Shannon said Czerwinka fired a .22 caliber rifle shot through his wife's left temple. Her body was found in the bedroom of their home.

The body of her husband, along with that of the couple's collie dog, was in the family car in a garage across the road from the two-story frame house, which the couple operated as a summer boarding house, Oscar's Farm, Inc. They had lived there for about the past 20 years, Cpl. Shannon said.

Put Rifle Back

Troopers said Czerwinka, after shooting his wife, apparently returned the rifle to its usual spot in a storeroom of their home where it was found by state police.

Cpl. Shannon said Czerwinka, accompanied by the couple's collie dog, then went to the garage across the road.

Beside Czerwinka in the front seat of the family car was a photograph of his wife. The dog's body was found on the floor of the back seat.

Runs Hose Into Car

Czerwinka had hooked a hose from the exhaust of the car to the left rear window which, Cpl. Shannon said, had been made airtight with clothing stuffed in the openings.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Bertha Bradstrom and a son, John Shannon, both of North Babylon, L. I.

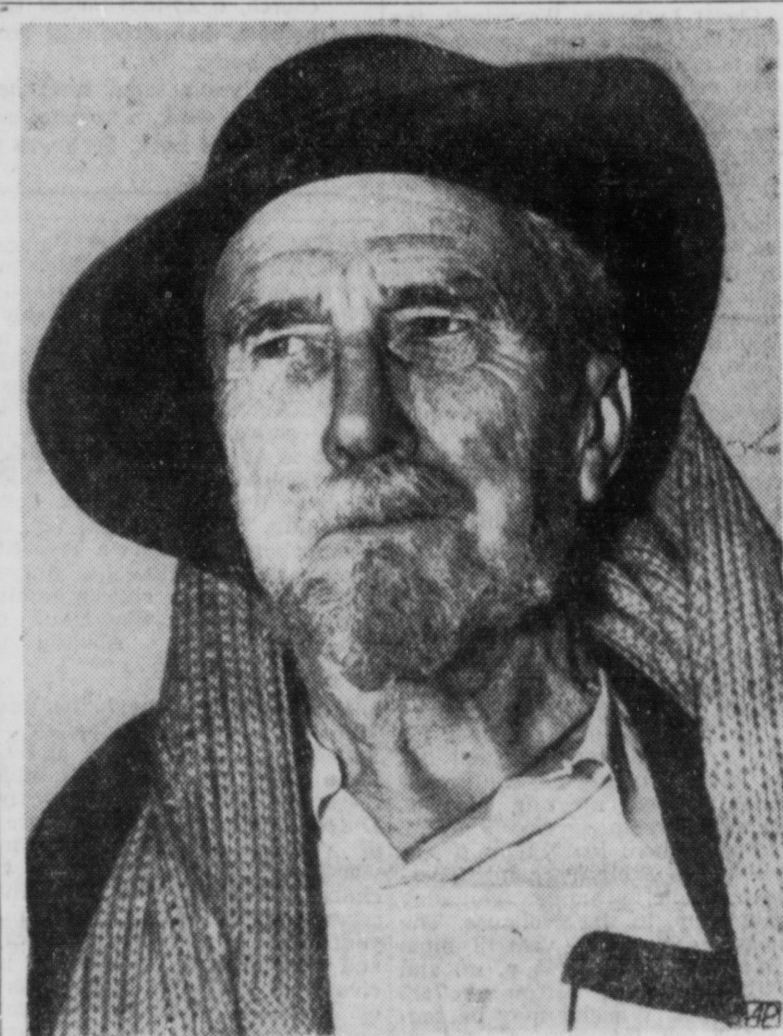

Double funeral services will be held at the George J. Moylan Funeral Home, Main Street, Rosendale, Tuesday at 2 p. m. Burial will be in Fairview Cemetery, Stone Ridge. Friends may call at the funeral home Sunday and Monday from 2 to 4 and 7 to 10 p. m.

Paltz Man Is Killed as Car Leaves Roadway, Hits Pole

Robert Hayes, 29, of RD Box 908, New Paltz, a general maintenance man for a New Paltz nursing home, was killed instantly early this morning when his car went out of control at the intersection of the Libertyville and Guilford Roads, about five miles south of New Paltz and smashed into a utility pole.

The accident was discovered shortly before 5 a. m. by a passing motorist. Coroner Francis J. McCordie of Kingston said, however, that it probably occurred several hours earlier.

McCordie told The Freeman that Hayes died of a result of a

Alcorn Raps Democrats For Views on Economy

JAMESTOWN (AP)—The chairman of the Republican National Committee last night accused the Democrats of an organized effort "to convince the public that the country is on the skids."

The Democrats are apparently convinced that there is nothing immoral about seeking to make political capital out of a recession," said Meade Alcorn.

Seen as Prime Issue

In a speech at a Chautauque County Republican fund-raising dinner, he assailed the Democrats for "a coldly calculated attempt to make the jobless worker a pawn in the game of politics."

He indicated that he regarded the economy as the prime issue shaping up for the fall political campaign.

In his 15 months as GOP national chairman, he said, he has had

Will Form Cabinet

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP)—Former Premier Sim Var today accepted a call from King Sihanouk to form a new Cambodian Cabinet.

Sim Var took the mandate after former Premier Penn Nouth declined for health reasons.

The new cabinet will be the first since elections April 1 in which Prince Norodom Sihanouk's Popular Socialist Community Party won all 61 seats in the National Assembly. Penn Nouth stepped down in accordance with constitutional procedure when the elections were called. Since then he has run a caretaker government.

William Scott, 76 of Brimstone Hill, Town of Wawarsing, a retired laborer, has confessed shooting to death his 8-year-old nephew because the boy "bothered me."

Scott said in a signed statement last night that he waited for the boy, Joseph Kowalski, to arrive home on a school bus, coaxed him into a wooded area and shot him with a shotgun.

The tragedy took place two miles west of Pine Bush and a quarter of a mile from the child's home at Brimstone Hill, according to Ellenville state police.

Family Starts Search

When the boy failed to arrive home from school yesterday afternoon, his family began a frantic search for him. The boy's grandfather, Chris Whitty, of Ulsterville, found the body about 7 p. m.

Nearby, state police found a double barreled 12-gauge shotgun. They searched for the round ball pellet that struck the boy in the head.

Scott was arraigned on a first-degree murder charge before Magistrate Herbert Poppel in Wawarsing. He was taken today to Ulster County Jail in Kingston to await action by a grand jury.

Checking on Story

District Attorney Howard St. John said today Scott is scheduled to go before the grand jury next Thursday. Meantime, consideration is being given to a mental examination for him.

St. John said Scott told him and state police that he had been arrested with his wife more than 40 years ago for abandonment of their child.

Authorities are checking to substantiate a story that the youngster was found dead in a forest area.

Says He Went to Prison

Scott said he pleaded guilty to murder, second degree, and was sentenced on January 19, 1915, to from eight to 16 years at Clinton State Prison, Dannemora.

His wife, Ida Scott, who has been dead for many years, was sentenced to from two to four years at Auburn Prison for Women, Scott said, after she also pleaded guilty to murder, second degree.

The district attorney's office was hunting through old records to check on the story told by Scott.

Scott was described as docile and coherent. Police said he admitted slaying the Kowalski boy when they investigated all fire arms owned by residents in this area.

Makes Decision

Scott told police that the boy had "annoyed" him, had "taken things" from his property and "made a lot of racket." He was

Police Fear New Outbreak With Indians Over Land

NIAGARA FALLS (AP)—Brothers of the Tuscarora Indians stood by today to help fight a four-day-old war with New York State. Police feared another clash was in the offing.

Yesterday passed in a calm, almost festive mood—a far cry from the flareup Thursday that resulted in the arrest of three braves and a surveyor for the State Power Authority.

But last night some other members of the Iroquois Confederacy began arriving at the reservation to lend support in the Tuscaroras' fight with the power authority.

The authority has appropriated 1,383 acres of the Tuscarora Reservation, about a fifth, for use in the $600,000 Niagara power project. Surveyors have been trying to get on the land since Wednesday but so far have been driven off.

Scores of Mohawks, Cayugas, Senecas, Oneidas and Onondagas flocked to the reservation last night.

A special Tuscarora committee was formed to set up tents for the newcomers and provide room for them in Tuscarora homes.

George A. Thomas, chief of the six-nation confederacy that numbers an estimated 7,500 Indians,

Byrd Not Sure of Revenues Virginia Senator Sees Sharp Drop

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Byrd (D-Va.) said today the government appears headed toward an eight billion dollar deficit next year even without a general tax cut.

Byrd, who heads the Senate Finance Committee, said in an interview he agrees with Secretary of the Treasury Anderson that red ink spending will top three billion dollars in the present fiscal year, which ends June 30.

To Approach $4 Billion

Anderson told the American Society of Newspaper Editors yesterday that even if federal revenues remain at a high level—which he said is unlikely—there will be a deficit approaching four billion dollars in the year beginning July 1.

In January, President Eisenhower estimated there would be a 400 million dollar deficit this fiscal year and a 500 million dollar surplus next year. But that was before the deepened recession changed the picture.

Byrd said he looks for a sharper drop in revenues than Anderson estimated.

May Top $8 Billion

"I think the deficit is likely to run eight billion dollars or even more," Byrd said. "The Treasury estimated a two billion dollar increase in revenues for fiscal 1959, but the indications are now that there will be a two billion dollar drop instead of an increase."

"When the effects of the acceleration in spending begin to be felt, the deficit is going to mount up fast. I think the increase in spending will run to at least four billion dollars, which, with the drop in revenue will make the total deficit at least eight billion dollars."

Says Decline Expected

Along the same lines, The New York Times said it has learned the Eisenhower administration expects a decline in the next fiscal year of at least four billion dollars in receipts, even without a tax cut because of the recession. The newspaper said this pointed to a budget deficit in fiscal 1959 of at least eight billion dollars.

Anderson said the administration is giving daily consideration to whether a tax cut would be advisable. He added that he is opposed to any abrupt reduction, saying modification of taxes must not be based "on the theory that a single dramatic action will automatically be all that is required to assure business recovery."

37,800 More Jobless

The Labor Department reported the number of jobless workers insured for unemployment compensation rose by 37,800 in the week ended April 5 to a total of 3,314,000. This was the highest total since the end of World War II, the department's bureau of employment security said last night.

However in the subsequent week, the bureau said, there was a drop of 40,000 in initial claims for jobless benefits. The total of new claims in the week ended April 12 was 461,800, the bureau said. Initial claims cover workers just laid off. About two-thirds of the nation's workers come under the federal-state unemployment compensation system.

Junior Chamber Beauty Pageant Set for Tonight

The Junior Chamber of Commerce pageant to choose Miss Kingston will start at 8:15 o'clock tonight at George Washington School, Washington Avenue.

Nine girls are competing for the crown, according to Albert Trowbridge, chairman of the pageant, proceeds of which are for the Jaycee youth activities fund.

It is hoped that a crowded auditorium will see tonight's crowning by Miss Lois Middleton, 1957 queen.

At noon today, the contestants toured Kingston in four convertibles loaned by J. H. Byrne Chevrolet Corporation.

The POWER of FAITH

by Howard Brodie

Through the trackless lands of Alaska during the Gold Rush days walked Father Francis Monroe. Miners on the loneliest streams learned to know him. On one 500-mile trip, he lost his shoes; yet, he continued. He helped the sick and started a hospital. He carried one sick man miles on his back.

He was an engineer and carpenter. While working on a church, a 25-foot timber toppled. He cried a warning to his helpers, then stood and broke the force of the blow with his own body.

Six years later, after he had continued to carry on his inspiring work, a hospital examination revealed the blow had broken his back. Such was the power of his faith.

Katrine Family Gospel Service Set for Sunday

Family Gospel Church services will be held Sunday evening at the Lake Katrine Grange Hall, located off Route 9W, north of Kingston. The Family Gospel Church provides a place of worship for every member of the family, by holding two services, one for adults in the upper auditorium and one for children in the lower auditorium, from 6 to 7 p. m. Sunday.

In the service for adults the pianist will be Gilbert Cicio, Mrs. George West will sing "Fear Not Ye O Israel" and "Spirit of God." The junior choir, under the direction of Mrs. Albert Sadler, will sing "God Has Blotted Them Out," and "My Precious Lord." Charles Brandt, violinist, will play "I Would Be Like Jesus." The songleader will be Willard Davis. Awards will be presented to eight persons who have successfully completed the Bible Memory Association program by memorizing 150 verses of Scripture in 12 weeks. There will be a Bible message by the Rev. Scott E. Vining "Beholding the Glory of the Lord."

In the service for children Miss Joyce Finch will present an object lesson. The junior and cherub choirs will be directed by Mrs. Albert Sadler. Mrs. Parker Ballantine will supervise the pre-school children and present a missionary story. Mrs. Scott E. Vining will give a Bible flannelgraph story entitled "The Parable of the Lost Son." There will be handwork and Bible memory work. Miss Myrtle Finch will be in charge of the "Jet Rocket Contest" and will award points and prizes for attendance and Bible memory work. Children of all ages may participate in the program.

The "Mary and Martha" Ladies Fellowship group will meet at the home of Mrs. Parker Ballantine, Esopus Avenue, tonight at 8 p. m. The guest speaker will be Mrs. Elsie Pultz. The mid-week service will be held Wednesday 7:30 p. m. at the home of Roland Neice, Flatbush Avenue, Kingston. There will be a period of prayer and an informal Bible study. A systematic study of the book of Hebrews will be started this week, using as a text, "The Bible Study Outlines" by Dr. Charles J. Woodbridge.

The Family Gospel Church is an interdenominational community project.

Navy to Mothball 22 More Vessels

WASHINGTON—The Navy today announced plans to mothball 22 transports by June 30.

The Military Sea Transportation Service said eight of the ships are of a type used for carrying military dependents and that they are no longer required. The other 14 were described as "austere" type troopships which have been held in ready reserve.

MSTS said the ships will be laid up at Beaumont, Tex.; in the James River, Va.; the Hudson River, N. Y.; at Olympia, Wash.; Astoria, Ore.; and Suisun Bay, Calif.

Your Life And Mine

By CLYDE HERBERT SNELL

The Lord's Handkerchief

Have you ever tried to imagine what the world would look like if there were no grass? Step to the door and let your eyes dwell on the soft loveliness of what you see. And then try to think of how it all would look if the warming spring sun never brought back the green to the grass. If you have ever been in those arid sections of our country where grass exists only in the spots that are under irrigation, you can shape up some idea of what the view would be from your doorstep if there were no grass. In his "Song of Myself" Walt Whitman calls grass "the handkerchief of the Lord;" and what a beautiful handkerchief it is.

Grass does not just happen. It is a product of the "handwork" of God to which the writer of the 19th Psalm refers. Man, with all of his scientific ingenuity, cannot manufacture one blade of real grass.

"A common thing is a grass blade small. Crushed by the feet that pass. But all the dwarfs and giants tall. Working till dawns shadows fall. Can't make a blade of grass."

That which adds such a fresh touch of green loveliness to the world represents the artistry of a hand that is more than human. Dean Inge somewhere refers to the "idle profanity which thinks it has explained an event when it has said that it is the work of God, as if anything were not the work of God." Because something is commonplace, in the sense that we bump into it everywhere we turn, does not mean it is any less a indication of the workings of the Divine. The nearness and love of God are most in evidence in those mercies which are so much a part of our daily lives (health, bread on our tables, friends, the loveliness of grass) that we make the sad mistake of taking them for granted.

There is a threat to sight and awareness in living constantly with beauty. Emerson makes the comment in his essay on "Nature" that "if the stars should appear one night in a thousand years, how would men believe and adore; and preserve for many generations the remembrance of the city of God which had been shown. But every night comes out these envoys of beauty, and light the universe with their admonishing smile." That "every-nightness" underlines our ability really to appreciate them. And what is true of the stars is true also of that green "handkerchief of the Lord"; as well as countless other things.

Wise living continuously wages a well-planned and never-abating battle against such blindness. Have you ever thanked God for His handkerchief—the green grass which helps so much in making the world at springtime such a delightful contrast to the bleakness of winter?

The Chicago Symphony Orchestra was founded by Theodore Thomas in 1890.

Strobel, of the Green-Ulster Masonic District of the Grand Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons in the State of New York, will conclude his year's official visitations of the lodges of the district with a homecoming in Rondout Lodge, 343 F & AM Monday in the Masonic Temple, 31 Albany Avenue, at 8 p. m.

It is expected that large delegations from the lodges of the district will be present as well as many current and past grand lodge officers and present and past masters of the lodges.

Right Worshipful Strobel became a member of Rondout Lodge in 1942 and served as master in 1946. He was appointed district service representative for the district in 1946 and held that office for two years. In 1948 he was appointed assistant grand lecturer of the district for two years.

He is a member of Mt. Horeb Chapter 75, Royal Arch Masons and is an honorary member of Wawarsing Lodge 582 F & AM of Ellenville.

He is trustee of the Masonic Temple of Kingston at the present time, having held that position since 1951. He is past president of the Past Masters Association of Rondout Lodge; past president of the Masters and Wardens Association of the Green-Ulster District and past president of the Masters and Wardens Association of the Green-Ulster District and past president of the Rondout Lodge Craftsmen's Club.

Refreshments will be served in the dining room following the ceremonies and a reception held for the District Deputy.

All Master Masons are cordially invited to attend.

Redeemer Church Sets Dedication For Nave Windows

Three memorial stained-glass picture windows will be dedicated on Sunday at the 10:45 a. m. service at the Evangelical Lutheran Church of the Redeemer, Wurts and Rogers Streets.

The nave windows which are part of a set of 12 depicting the Apostles of Christ have been given as memorials by families of Redeemer Church.

The Saint Thomas window which carries the symbol of the carpenter's square and spear, since Thomas was a builder of churches, is a memorial to John C. Gue from his wife and children; the Saint John window includes the figure of John, the gospel writer, holding a book with the symbol of the Chalice above the figure, since John was next to Christ at the Last Supper, and is a memorial to Mr. and Mrs. J. William Salzmann from their children, and the Saint Matthew window likewise showing the apostle with a book includes the symbol showing three money-pouches, indicating that he was a tax-gatherer before being called by Jesus to discipleship, and is a memorial to Mr. and Mrs. Ray Saehloff from their children.

The order for dedication will be conducted by the pastor, the Rev. David C. Gaise, who will preach the sermon on the topic, "To God Be All the Glory." Visitors are welcome at the service.

Religious Radio Programs

Presented as a public service over stations WKNY and WSKN and sponsored by the Kingston Area Ministerial Association the following programs of Christian faith and life will be broadcast during the coming week: Sunday, 10:45 a. m., over WKNY, Let There Be Light, a transcribed production of the Broadcasting and Film Commission of the National Council of the Churches of Christ in the U. S. A.; 11 a. m. over WKNY, morning service of worship from the Old Dutch Church, with sermon by the minister, the Rev. Arthur E. Oudemool; 11 a. m. over WSKN, morning service of worship from the Rosendale Reformed Church, with sermon by the minister, the Rev. Cuyler Thayer; 9:15 p. m., over WKNY, Church World News, a weekly and unbiased report of news of all faiths. Each day, except Sunday, 8:55 a. m., Morning Chapel, a brief devotional program, with the following ministers officiating: Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, the Rev. Henry M. Hansen, minister of the Ponckhockie Congregational Church; Thursday, Friday and Saturday, the Rev. Olney E. Cook, pastor of St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church.

President Calls For Observance Of College Day

NEW YORK—President Eisenhower joined yesterday with church leaders in calling for observance tomorrow of National Christian College Day.

In a message to the National Council of Churches, which sponsors the annual observance, the President said:

"From the earliest years of the American colonies our church people have led in the building of schools and colleges.

"Inspired by the truth that sets men free, they have established a great heritage of academic training which contributes an essential quality of strength to the citizens of our country."

Tool Engineers Society Formed

The organization of the executive committee of Kingston Chapter American Society of Tool Engineers was completed this week.

This first meeting at the home of Bernard A. Martin, 3201 Lane, Hurley Heights, brought together representatives of four area industries—Electrol, Inc., Rotron Manufacturing, Cinrock Machinery Co., and IBM.

Present at the meeting were: Alan T. Mickel, Kingston, public relations chairman; Frank S. Cashion, Port Ewen, program; Robert E. Morris, St. Remy, membership co-chairman with Charles S. Johnson, Saugerties; Arthur R. Richter, Kingston, secretary; Andrew Kearny, Woodstock, 2nd vice chairman; Howard Berthoff, Kingston, historian; Andrew J. Horvath, West Hurley, program chairman; John Kelly, Kingston, 1st vice chairman and Bernard A. Martin, Hurley Heights, treasurer.

The chairman of the chapter is Attila Deilly of New Paltz.

Crash Through Wall

FAILS TO SAVE YOUTH—David Smith, 17, crashed a jeep through the wall of a burning garage to rescue his brother. But the brother died yesterday of the burns.

Hugh Smith, 16, was trapped in a garage in suburban Depew last Tuesday night when gasoline he and a friend were using to clean a motor burst into flame.

The friend made it out through a small rear door. Hugh was caught between the fire and the hinged doors, which were locked. David jumped into a service jeep at a nearby filling station and gained it through the wall to reach his brother.

Hugh was brought to a hospital here where he died.

He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Smith of Depew. The father is a railroad worker.

To Study Unfair Retail Practices

ALBANY—A committee representing consumer and business groups will study the question of where a State Trade Commission should be set up to police retail selling in New York State.

The study group was authorized yesterday at a conference on consumer problems, one of a series sponsored by Dr. Persia Campbell, consumer counsel to Gov. Harriman.

The six-member committee will be appointed by Miss Campbell. Miss Campbell said there was a substantial area in which unfair retail practices existed.

Lewis M. Oatman, Fishing Expert, Dies

CAMBRIDGE—Fishing expert Lewis M. Oatman, 54, died in a hospital yesterday after a brief illness.

Oatman was a specialist in tying flies in many parts of the world. He also was the author of magazine articles on fishing.

He was a native of nearby Greenwich but lived in White Plains for 32 years. He returned to Washington County in 1956 and made his home at Shushan, near the Vermont line.

Struck by Auto, Dies

GLENS FALLS—Edward Tennant, 78, of West Glens Falls, was killed last night when he was struck by an automobile while walking along a road near his home.

Taxpayers to Vote On Saxton School

There will be a meeting of the voters of the Saxton School District Monday at 7:30 o'clock to vote on the question of whether the school house in that district shall be closed at the end of the current year.

This meeting has been arranged by the Board of Education of the Saugerties Central Schools in response to a petition signed by 43 people in the Saxton School District.

Little Gardens Group To Beautify Saugerties

Plans to beautify Saugerties will be the topic of discussion of the Saugerties Society of Little Gardens meeting Wednesday at 2:30 p. m. at the home of Mrs. John Althiser, Washington Avenue Extension.

Further plans for conducting the annual flower show of the society on June 4 will be outlined.

B of E Votes to Engage Additional Teachers

At the Board of Education meeting this week, the decision was made to engage two more additional teachers for the coming school year, because of the extremely heavy enrollment in the 4th and 5th grades at the Main Street School next fall.

The census figures indicate that between 85 and 90 pupils will be enrolled in each of these two grades at the Main Street School in September.

Superintendent Grant D. Morse reported to the board 10 unfilled vacancies on the teaching staff for next year as follows: five elementary positions; 7th grade math and science; English and Latin; English and Spanish; homeroom and high school social studies.

PHILADELPHIA — Six Navy

enlisted men moved into the last half of their simulated seven-day trip to the moon after breaking radio silence because of an instrument defect.

The Navy men, who passed the half-way mark at midnight, contacted the outside world yesterday after instruments showed low lung capacity readings for two of the sailors.

Investigation disclosed a leak in the hose to a vitalometer, a device which measures the amount of air breathed into and exhaled from the lungs.

After the hose was repaired, the six resumed silence inside the sealed chambers.

The simulated flight is being conducted by a team of nine scientists at the air crew equipment laboratory at the Philadelphia Naval Base.

The men will return from their "trip to the moon" Tuesday afternoon.

Cancer Wins Out

OKLAHOMA CITY—Eighteen months ago, Cherie Thompson, then 16, married La Roy Jay, whom she had known since childhood.

Thirty-six hours after the wedding her right leg was amputated. Doctors said giving up her leg was her only hope of winning a fight against cancer.

Two weeks ago Cherie bore her husband a baby, but it died in eight hours.

Yesterday, Cherie died. Cancer had won.

Steketee on Leave After South Pole Trip

Peter F. Steketee, engineer third class, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emile Taiclet, 293 Greenkill Avenue is spending a 16 day leave at the home of his parents.

Petty Officer Steketee enlisted in January 1956 at the Navy Recruiting Station, Room 209, Central Post Office as a high school seaman recruit thus assuring him trade school training in the general technical specialty.

He received his recruit training at the Naval Training Center, Bainbridge, Md., and was further transferred to the engineman class "A" School at the Naval Training Station, Great Lakes, Ill. Upon completion of 12 weeks of intensive instruction in the use of hand tools and precision measuring instruments, gasoline and diesel engine functions, distilling plants and refrigeration he was ordered to report to the new ice-breaker, USS Glacier (AGB-4), for duty.

He has completed two trips to the South Pole, his ship taking part in the Navy's operations Deep-Freeze 2 and 3 covering the periods September 1956 to April 1957 and again from September 1957 until April 1958.

Steketee is a 1955 graduate of Kingston High School. As a student at Kingston High he was active in sports, playing three years on the varsity football team. His ship will depart from the Boston Navy Yard in June to try the difficult and dangerous Northwest Passage.

Attending School

Robert L. Tienken, machinist's mate third class, USN, son of Mrs. Gertrude Tienken of Union Center Road, Ulster Park, and husband of the former Miss Patricia C. Haber of Eddyville, on March 17 began an eight-week course of instruction at the air conditioning and refrigeration school, Naval Base, Norfolk, Va.

Heybrück Returns to Base

Thomas J. Heybrück, fireman apprentice, U. S. Navy has been appointed to the Naval Submarine Base, New London, Conn., after spending a seven day leave at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Heybrück of 17 Staples Street. Fireman Heybrück enlisted in the Navy in April 1957 at the local recruiting station, Room 209, Central Post Office and received his recruit training at the Naval Training Center, Bainbridge, Md., and was further transferred to the Interior Communications Electronics Mate Class "A" School at the Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill. Upon completion of this trade school, he volunteered for submarine duty and was assigned to the Naval Submarine Base, New London, Conn. to receive the course of instruction covering eight weeks as a submariner. Thomas is a graduate of Kingston High School and selected the Electronics Field as his choice for trade school training.

Leaves for Texas

Robert Goldstein, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Goldstein of 59-67 Sharon Lane, left Wednesday for San Antonio, Tex., after enlisting in the U. S. Air Force.

He is a graduate of Kingston High School and attended Ithaca College and Bradley University. Goldstein was with the Fifth Army Engineers before joining the Boeing Airplane Co. of Wichita, Kan. More recently he has been employed by Channel Master, Inc., Ellenville.

THE AGE OF PAPER

The 20th century is many things, some of them wonderful, some frightening, some magnificently confusing. Among them it is the Age of Paper. And because it is that, it is also the Age of the File Cabinet.

This is the day when single copies of anything seem to indicate unpardonable inefficiency. Duplicate and triplicate forms are basic. Since you don't dare let the stuff pile up on your desk—unless you happen to be in the newspaper business—you file it.

Government, of course, is great in this line. We've all seen those acres of file cabinets the FBI keeps. Social Security headquarters must compare pretty closely on a square footage basis.

Some of the big corporations have found themselves owning or renting warehouses just for their old files. A fellow who goes over to dig something out needs everything but a passport.

Every now and then some company holds a top-level meeting at which it is decided it is now safe to burn or throw out the files for the years 1913 through 1918. Like as not a complaint bobs up the following week, and the facts are all in the incinerator.

With all this mad filing, it's inescapable that some things get lost or misfiled. The Internal Revenue Service is forever sending out notices claiming they have no record of tax returns that were quite properly filed. The state motor vehicle bureaus sometimes can't keep track of what car is licensed to whom. Some magazine subscription departments would baffle the most diligent spy.

There's so much of this, in fact, that one can't help wondering how much of the taxpayers' money, and company cost, is reflected in time-consuming efforts to set the record straight.

It might be instructive to have a little inquiry into this matter. Only one trouble looms. They'd probably misfile the results of the survey and we'd never know what it showed.

RETURN TO PICKWICK

Some eminent literary man—William Lyon Phelps, if memory serves—once remarked that whenever a new book was published he read two old ones. The practice has much to recommend it, though one should not carry it to the extreme of ignoring contemporary literature. In fact, anyone interested in the realm of ideas has an obligation to be at least reasonably well informed about new books.

It is refreshing, though, to go back and delve into the pleasant riches of the classics. It is exciting and entertaining, especially, to hit upon a book that one has not opened for many years. If the book is truly a classic, it often springs to life again from the haze of recollection, full of vigor and color.

These remarks are prompted by a recent happy experience with Charles Dickens' "Pickwick Papers." The adventures of that great man, the inimitable Mr. Pickwick, and his companions seemed as fresh and zestful as they had seemed many years ago when we first encountered the work. "The Posthumous Papers of the Pickwick Club" is an amusing book, at once mellow and sparkling, full of the charm that few other authors have been able to capture. To those who have not dipped into it in years we say: Have a look now. As for those who have never ventured abroad with the Pickwickians, we say to them: There's no time like the present.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY
THE REORGANIZATION

It is natural in American life for us to have a prolonged and profound quarrel over the military at just such a time as this. The United States is a civilian country, Americans dislike war. Military men, in peace time, do not go about the country strutting uniforms; the top generals, as like as not, are to be seen travelling about in mufti, as it used to be called, namely, the street dress of a small businessman.

However, comes a war, and that red-tape bound military force grows in size, efficiency and character. Ours is, after all, a citizen's Army, Navy and Air Force with a very smart hard core of professionals, who form the frame of an accordion-like military. With such a force, we have generally won our wars, which were against the British, the Mexicans, the Indians and various Latin American countries whom we were protecting against themselves, as we strictly believed.

Then came World War I, and we were involved in something very new for us, actual fighting in Europe in alliance with other countries. We adjusted with difficulty to World War I. Herbert Hoover's new book on Woodrow Wilson shows how very difficult it was to adjust to the concept of fighting by means of an alliance. Our people were wholly unprepared for it. In World War II, the Allies acted as one force and the direction of all forces was concentrated. The bickering was, at times, ferocious. General Eisenhower's value during World War II was not that he possessed any military genius; that was not expected of him. Rather, his genius lay in his ability to get irreconcilable men of many nationalities to work together against a common foe. In this psychological effort, he was remarkably successful, particularly in winning over the British who tended to regard some of our officers as second rate.

The present quarrel over reorganization is a permanent quarrel in our military forces and in Congress. I recall discussing it way back with James Forrestal. Traditionally, our Army and Navy have been separate services, each with its own traditions and habits; each purchasing its own supplies; each staffed by officers independent of every other service.

Then came air. The Army had an air Army; the Navy had an air Navy; even the Marine Corps had an air Marine Corps. However, it became necessary to organize a separate air branch for efficiency of military operations. This was done and a new competitive element entered the military picture.

As a result of the various squabbles, the Department of Defense was organized on the theory that a unified administrative service could be established. Economies were to be effected by establishing a unified standard inventory. Nothing like that happened. If anything, the Departments are now more competitive than they have ever been, each fighting for its little empire and for its place in the budget.

Everybody agrees that there should be unification. So, the Joint Chief of Staff were organized, the theory being that if they sat together and worked together, they would ultimately forget the services from which they originated and that they would ipso facto become unified. This did not happen. Instead, the tendency has been for each department to stand on its own and even forming groups within each department to fight for some special appropriation for special work.

Then came the Sputnik. Suddenly, the country became conscious of the fact that we are falling behind the Russians. Each service that had heretofore been claiming itself as the top service in the world, suddenly admitted defects. That not only hurt American pride but frightened our people. They wondered what could have happened to all the billions of dollars that we had spent on all our preparations for war.

Many plans for unification have since appeared. But there was no plan that satisfied everybody. Except that there is no valid support for the maintenance of the status quo. The demand for change appeared on all sides. Army men and many civilians fear the Prussian chief-of-staff type of organization, but that a form of unity of planning and unity of authority is necessary, all agree. And the likelihood is that some such plan will be evolved on the floor of Congress by prolonged debate, but it is certain that we shall have an effective defense force.

Education Is for Marriage,
Too, Teener Should Realize

"Most of the girls I know who are planning on going on to college," says a high school senior, "are going just because their parents expect them to."

"They aren't really interested in anything but getting married, but most of them are afraid to tell their parents that."

Parents of any daughter who does get up the courage to say, "What's the use of my going to college?—I don't want a career—I just want to get married and have a home and children," shouldn't be thrown into a tailspin of disappointment.

Instead, they ought to try to tell her on the idea of a college education on her own terms, by saying something like this:

"Of course, you want to get married. That's right and normal. But if you intend to marry and create a home for a husband and children you are going to need a good education."

A RICHER LIFE
Then they should explain: "You'll need an education to better understand your husband and children. And unless you have taken the opportunity to enrich your own life through learning, how can you create the kind of home atmosphere that encourages your husband and children to make the most of their abilities and opportunities and to enjoy all the riches open to those who enjoy using their minds?"

"Higher education isn't wasted on a girl whose one and only ambition is to be a homemaker. For then it not only enriches the life of an individual—but of a whole family."

So, actually, what we want for you isn't too different from what you want for yourself. We, too, want you to have a husband, a home and children.

"But we want you to wait to decide on who your husband is going to be until you've had a better preparation for living than you have at 17 or 18."

"And we would like to see you bring to the career of homemaker all the knowledge and understanding and appreciation that we think a college education will give you."

of persons who have not yet had one shot of the poliomyelitis vaccine.

The commissioner says the polio vaccine is safe and effective and therefore all persons, particularly those under 40 years of age, should start the series of three injections as soon as possible.

If we protect our children and ourselves now, we will be able better to relax this summer and have less fear of this dread disease.

NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — New Cuban Ambassador Nick Arroyo is an intrepid host who has proved he can throw a cocktail party under the most adverse conditions. This combined with his other talents, is a lead pipe cinch to make him a huge success here.

More than a year ago, when the new ambassador was Cuba's director of public works, he and his attractive wife planned a large cocktail do at their plush mansion just outside of Havana. The morning of the affair, there was a report that some of Castro's followers would attack the house during the party.

Undaunted by this threat, Arroyo got a couple of platoons of soldiers to come to the house. They set up machine gun emplacements all around and guests filed in through a cordon of soldiers with fixed bayonets.

In spite of the military display the party was a huge success. FRIEND OF OURS at the Indonesian embassy got sick last week and received a get-well card from another embassy staff member saying:

"What's Sumatra, Java pain in your tail?"

ATTORNEY GENERAL Bill Rogers is one of a large group of citizens here who were eager for the end of this cold, uncomfortable spring and for even a hot summer to arrive. He has promised his four kids a camping vacation early this summer and the whole family is rarin' to go.

It's not so much that Bill is the outdoorsy type, he confides. It's just that camping out is the only type vacation he and Mrs. Rogers think they can afford this summer, he says.

"Ever see the size of a breakfast check in a hotel for a family of six?" he asks.

genheim walked into a formal reception the other night wearing a flashy medal on the front of his coat.

"Which one of your distinguished service awards does that represent?" a guest asked, pointing to the decoration.

Colonel Gugenheim looked at the medal and was shocked to discover that he had put on his Laurel Race Track membership pin by mistake.

DURING A Pan American Union cocktail party a friend asked Bolivian Embassy Legal Counselor Mario Guzman if he could join the diplomat's new Latin American Embassy Backlot Club. He was surprised when Guzman replied that membership depended on more than just being a bachelor.

"Sounds pretty exclusive," the friend asked.

"Not really," Guzman answered. "Actually, all you need is your own penthouse apartment, hi-fi set and portable bar."

A BOUQUET of flowers which a friend of ours ordered for his girl friend was sent by mistake to Mrs. Manlio Brosio, wife of the Italian ambassador.

When she didn't find a card with the flowers, Mrs. Brosio assumed that they were a surprise gift from her husband and placed them in a vase. Later the distraught florist phoned and with a multitude of apologies informed her that she received someone else's flowers.

After assuring the florist that everything was all right, she told him to send two bouquets of the same flowers to the correct address and mail the bill to her.

Our friend reports that his romance is coming along better than ever.

MOST POPULAR guest at a Washington Guitar Society cocktail party for guitarist Andres Segovia turned out to be concert manager Patrick Hayes. The genial impresario had accomplished what amounted to a musical coup for this town by talking the famed Segovia into giving a concert here. To show their appreciation, Society musicians decided to make him the only non-guitar playing member of the club.

"Do I have to learn how to play to keep my membership?" Hayes asked.

"We intend to review your case periodically," a musician cracked. "Whether or not you stay in the club depends on how often you can talk Segovia into coming back."

So They Say..

We know the techniques of war; now we must master the arts of peace. A thousand conferences are to be preferred to the dropping of one bomb.

—Rep. Harold D. Cooley (D.-N.C.), urging early summit conference.

Making a record isn't show business... These youngsters are coming in to make a fast dollar. Well, let them make their record and then get out.

—Sophie Tucker, "Last of the Red Hot Mamas," on young rock 'n' roll singers.

I wouldn't attach too much importance to these student riots (before U. S. Embassy in Indonesia). I remember when I was a student at the Sorbonne in Paris I used to go out and riot occasionally.

—Secretary of State Dulles.

If our youngsters' behavior and attitudes are not all we think they should be, it is because adults either have given them a wrong sense of values or no values at all.

—Maj. Gen. Delmar T. Spivey, USAF (ret.), superintendent of Culver Military Academy.

UD Society Celebrates 62nd Anniversary

HIGHLAND—A small group of young women meeting at the home of Mrs. John H. Coe, Grand Street, on the afternoon of April 4, 1896, formed the UD Society at the suggestion of Mrs. James Hayden, who had come from New Paltz. It was to be an embroidery club and get together for its members.

Through the years, meetings were held every two weeks on Saturday afternoons. The 62nd birthday of the society was celebrated Saturday with 23 members and one guest having lunch at the Belvedere. Of the 17 original members Miss Eliza Ives Raymond and her sister, Mrs. Dora R. Haight attended the luncheon.

The original members included four sets of sisters, Misses Mame and Margaret Elting, Frances and Jeanette Bruyn, Bertha and Eva Wisemiller, and Eliza and Dora Raymond. Others were Mrs. Hayden, Mrs. J. W. Feeter, Mrs. Philip Schantz, Mrs. Coe, the Misses Florence LeFevre, Lizzie Niven, Mae Hasbrouck, Laura Tillson, Mrs. Hayden.

A play given by the group in Feeter's Hall helped provide the firemen with uniforms. During the war years refreshments were given up and war knitting became more fashionable than embroidery. For several years the knitting of afghans to be given to invalids, veterans in homes or hospitals has been the project and 131 have been made.

At the close of the lunch the president, Miss Rowena Harcourt presided for a short business meeting. Responding to roll call were Mrs. Nathan Williams, Mrs. Philip Wilkoff, Mrs. Peter Weyant, Mrs. Hubert Elting, Mrs. Rose Seaman, Mrs. Thomas Sears, Mrs. Franklin Welker, Mrs. Ruth Smalley, Mrs. Fred Wilkoff, Mrs. Charles Champlin, Mrs. J. H. Alexander, Mrs. Chris. Dohrman, Mrs. Alfred Lane, Mrs. Lillian Johnston, Mrs. Doris McGrath, Mrs. C. Imbrie Richards, Mrs. W. B. Taber, Mrs. Haight, Miss Raymond, Mrs. George DuBois, Mrs. Henry Thompson, Mrs. Abram Rhoads, Miss Harcourt and the new member, Mrs. Gordon Wilcox.

Plans for a supper to be served by the service and hospitality committee Saturday 6:30 p. m. in the Grange Hall, were completed at the meeting of the Grange Tuesday evening.

Also plans for an auction to be held sometime next month were discussed. Members of the Grange will be at the hall Sunday, April 27 to receive any articles to be sold, or contacts can be made to Jack Nace or Alfonso Trapani, or Mrs. Bertha Hasbrouck in the New Paltz area. The service and hospitality committee will serve a lunch on the day of the auction.

On the same day steps will be taken to form a junior degree team at 2 p. m.

The Juvenile Grange held its meeting Tuesday with 16 members present. The adult Grange had a program of readings, a quiz and spelling bee with 50 members attending. Refreshments were served.

Apple Queen Ball Set for May 3
The committee, Peter Roumelis and Nicholas Marrone, met Tuesday evening to plan for the Apple Queen Ball to be held May 3 at Hotel DiPrima for the benefit of the building fund of Holy Trinity Church.

Misses Shirley Altizio, Carol Roan, Linda Vaccaro are the entrants. The winner will receive a silver cup and a $25 Savings Bond. The queen's cup is on display in the Rizzi Jewelry Store. ### Club to Oppose End Of RR Express Service

MODENA—Members of the Plattkill Democratic Club met Monday evening at Hasbrouck Memorial Hall, when Angelo DeLewiss made a motion, seconded by Mrs. Howard Simpson, to send a telegram to the Public Service Commission, protesting to the proposed discontinuance of express service at Gardiner.

This act by the New York Central Railroad, would drastically affect residents in a large section of the country, who depend on the station for express service since the Modena station was closed several years ago, Mr. DeLewiss said.

Farmers, fruit growers, proprietors of boarding houses are a few classifications noted, who require this service in the industry they represent, and any potential industry would be inconvenienced by the move, he pointed out.

He urged all town organizations to organize opposition and send telegrams or representatives to a meeting of the Public Service Commission to be held May 29, at Kingston.

Mr. DeLewiss, president of the Plattkill Local Farmers' Union of New York State attended a meeting of the Union in Newburgh Tuesday evening, when a delegation was named to represent them at the meeting to be held in Kingston.

Modena Unit Meets

The Modena Unit of the Ulster County Extension Service, Home Demonstration Department, met Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Joseph E. Hasbrouck, with 20 members attending.

A very interesting program was conducted on the project, "Let's Know Our Foreign Neighbors," with Mrs. George Schneider of Duzine Road, New Paltz, speaking on the rearing of children in Iceland, her native home; while Mrs. Ralph Tice of Alhause Road, Modena, displayed articles which she had brought from her native land, Scotland.

Refreshments included dishes familiar to Iceland and Scotland.

Members of the unit will attend the housing tour, planned for April 28, in the Accord and High Falls section. Prior to that date, they will start millinery classes Tuesday with Jean DuBois and Marian Jensen in charge. The annual display of articles made in unit projects during the past year, will be at the Stock Modena, May 1-7.

Achievement Day will be held for all of the Ulster County units, at the Marlboro Central School, with members of the Milton unit as hostesses. A fashion show is planned, with a showing of hats and cotton dresses made by members. The next meeting of the local unit will be held Tuesday evening, May 20, at the home of Marie Reilly, instead of at Marian Jensen's home, as previously planned. A continuation of meat cookery lessons will be conducted.

Village Notes

Attending the annual dinner, for directors, patrons and families, of the Shawangunk Cooperative Dairy Association, at the Reformed Church Hall in Accord Tuesday evening were Mr. and Mrs. Lester A. Wager Jr., Mrs. Miss and Mrs. Wager, Miss Patricia Pink, Mr. and Mrs. Lester A. Wager Jr., and daughter, Joy Lynn, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Moran and family, Mrs. Edith Powell, and John Schriber, of this area.

Mrs. Joseph Daunt is in charge of the sale of tickets in this area for "Lo and Behold," a light comedy to be presented by the Wallkill Footlight Association, Friday and Saturday evenings, April 25 and 26 at the Wallkill Central School. The presentation is sponsored by the Wallkill Parents Club.

George A. Boyce Jr., of Wallkill, whose mother, Mrs. Melissa Boyce was teacher in the Modena School over a period of years, was recently appointed petty officer recruit, at the Great Lakes Naval Training Station. He is scheduled to graduate April 19.

All community organizations will take part in addition to the Modena Elementary School Children and the Stewart Air Force Color Guard.

Serving on the committee are Mr. Fowler, Mr. Webb, John Jenkins, Mr. Hasbrouck, "Cap" Jenkins, Mr. Montrola and Richard Barry.

A trip to Havana, Bermuda or any southern point will be one of the attractions of "Night in Havana" given Saturday night, June 28 at Villa Nueva, Plattekill. There will be musical and vocal entertainment, various stunt awards and dance music will be furnished by two orchestras.

Tickets are available from officers and members. The committee includes Fowler, Captain Jenkins, Frank Figlio, Croce, Angelo Ruggerio, Webb, Locascio, Oddo, Gleitsman and Orlowski.

Figlio, Sinagra and Robert Ciafone were named to head the installation dinner event for Saturday, June 14 at Oddo House, Clintonville. Dinner will be served 7:30 p. m.

During the social hour, Councilman Andrew Montrola's birthday was observed. The next meeting will be Wednesday night, April 30, 7:30 o'clock at Oddo House.

House Democrats Push for Added Jobless Benefits

WASHINGTON (AP)—House Democrats Friday got behind a billion dollar emergency unemployment relief program to provide 16 weeks of added jobless pay benefits for most of the nation's idled workers.

The plan, to remain in effect until June 30, 1959, would be financed wholly by the federal treasury. It would apply both to workers now covered by existing state unemployment programs and to many not now eligible, but proposed rules concerning the latter have not been decided.

House Ways and Means Committee Democrats settled on the plan at a caucus late yesterday, and expected to have it ready for House action next week. The committee, with Democrats holding a 15-10 majority, meets today to work out final details and send it to the House.

The Democratic-approved program represented a compromise of proposals put forth by President Eisenhower and those sponsored by Chairman Mills (D-Ark.) of the Ways and Means Committee.

In its tentative form, the program calls for:

1. Sixteen weeks of added benefits for insured workers who have exhausted compensation rights under state programs.
2. The same number of weeks of benefits for non-covered workers who are not eligible for state benefits.
3. Payments to be financed by the federal government in conformity with the existing level of benefits now provided under state programs, with no change in state standards.

Tito Is Elected To Third Term

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP)—Yugoslavia's Communist Parliament elected President Tito to a third term today. He promised to carry on his policy of independence for Yugoslavia and renewed his proposal to bring neutral countries into any summit conference of the big powers.

One by one, the 301 newly elected members of Parliament filed up to the speaker's rostrum and deposited their single ticket ballots into boxes sealed with red wax. They could vote yes or no, or they could abstain.

When Parliament President Peter Stambolic announced Tito's unanimous re-election, a dozen guns outside boomed a 21-gun salute. Then Tito, who will be 66 next month, marched into the chamber. He was tanned, smartly dressed and smiling.

In his speech after the election, Tito pledged himself to work for the good of the country and to carry on the struggle for better living conditions. Before his election, Tito told Parliament that the success of any Big Four summit conference would hinge on neutral countries.

Union-Fern Not Planning Action Over Hall Denial

A furniture house, presently conducting an exhibit at the state armory, Manor Avenue— which firm officials said today has attracted a three-day total of approximately 30,000 persons —does not plan any legal action against the City of Kingston for the denial of its application to use the municipal auditorium for the exhibit.

Charles Fabiano, manager of Union-Fern, Inc., 328 Wall Street, today issued the following statement:

Fabiano's Statement

"Contrary to rumor, Union-Fern has no intentions of pursuing any legal action against the city and realizes there might have been extenuating circumstances that caused any misunderstanding."

Fabiano said he was gratified at the response by the public of the Kingston area to his firm's $250,000 furniture exhibit at the state armory, which ends today at 10 p. m. The sale opened Wednesday noon.

He noted that people came from as far as 100 miles, "and this exhibit has been one of the most outstanding events in the 15 years that Union-Fern has been in Kingston."

Fabiano said he appreciated the cooperation of all those who helped stage the armory exhibit.

The furniture company had made a bid to use the municipal auditorium for exhibition purposes and was turned down by a Common Council committee because of regulations governing use of the building.

The chain-operated concern, through the council's building and supply committee sought use of the building, but it was decided after discussion of the proposal that its use for the requested purpose might be construed as a violation of the rules.

Mrs. R. P. Adelberg Is Injured in 213 Mishap

Mrs. Roy P. Adelberg, 31, of Stone Ridge, was admitted to Kingston Hospital late this morning with injuries suffered when a 1955 station wagon went out of control on Route 213 between High Falls and Route 209, struck a culvert and a telephone pole.

Trooper Richard Ryan said Mrs. Adelberg, wife of the minister of the Stone Ridge Reformed Church, suffered a possible concussion and multiple contusions. She was taken to the hospital by private car after a consultation with her personal physician.

West Has Showers, Rest of Nation Has Clear Weather

By The Associated Press

Scattered showers damped dry sections of the midwest and the Pacific northwest today, but fair and mostly pleasant spring weather prevailed over the rest of the country.

Temperatures were somewhat cooler across the northern plains and east of the Continental Divide in Montana and Wyoming. However, it was warmer from Georgia and the Carolinas northward along the Atlantic Coast.

The midwestern showers were widely scattered through the Mississippi Valley and the plains states and did little to alleviate exceedingly dry conditions over that area.

In addition to a general lack of moisture for agricultural needs, the U. S. Weather Bureau said the light rainfall of the past several months in much of the north central portion of the country has resulted in a high danger of forest fires.

Colder air moving across the northern tier of mid-continent states dropped temperatures 10 to 20 degrees lower than readings a day earlier. Most significant cooling occurred in western sections of the northern plains.

Slight warming was in evidence in Minnesota and Wisconsin, but the largest warm weather section extended over most of the Atlantic Coast as far northward as New York City and inland across southeastern Pennsylvania.

Temperature changes elsewhere were minor.

Little immediate change was indicated in the general weather picture.

Editors Oppose Tax Cut, Summit Talk With Reds

WASHINGTON (AP)—A majority of a group of the nation's top editors believe an income tax cut is not necessary at this time as an anti-recession measure.

They also feel President Eisenhower should not attend a summit conference in the absence of a firm list of questions for discussion agreed upon in advance.

Members of the American Society of Newspaper Editors so voted in an informal poll conducted by the Washington professional chapter of Sigma Delta Chi, national journalism fraternity, at its annual breakfast this morning for the ASNE.

The question asked and the vote on each follow:

1. Should Ike attend a summit conference in the absence of a firm list of questions for discussion agreed on in advance? Yes, 15, No, 71.
2. Do you favor a tax cut at this time as an effective anti-recession measure? Yes, 13, No, 74.

Pine Bush Boy

quoted as saying he "woke up this morning" and decided he "could not stand the boy any longer and would kill him."

Scott had worked for the Ulster County highway department.

The boy, a second grade student who wore his hair in a crew cut, was found face down. Sgt. Frank Stankamp said the youngster apparently was shot from behind.

The boy lived with his mother and stepfather, Martha and Morris Anthony Cappadora, two miles from this community, which straddles Orange and Ulster counties. The Cappadoras have another son, 2.

Mrs. Cappadora works in a garment factory near Walden. Cappadora is unemployed. The boy's father, Stanley Kowalski, lives in Clearwater, Fla.

Jakarta Troops Moving in on Rebels' Capital

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—Spurred on by the easy capture of Padang, Jakarta troops advanced on the Sumatran rebels' capital today with hopes of taking it ahead of their original schedule.

President Sukarno's troops were pushing up 58 miles of winding mountain road from the port city of Padang toward Bukittinggi, the rebel capital and last remaining city.

After meeting only token resistance at Padang Thursday, the government revised its timetable which originally had allowed three days for the march on Bukittinggi. "It will all be over soon," a military spokesman predicted.

Associated Press correspondent Murray Fromson, who witnessed the capture of Padang, saw only slight rebel counterfire during the amphibious invasion. Government airpower completely disorganized the rebels, who fled under strafing, he reported.

Three other columns of Jakarta forces continued to move toward Bukittinggi from the northwest, east and southeast. A military spokesman in Jakarta said Sukarno's forces outnumber the rebels almost four to one.

The rebels have vowed to fight on in a hit-and-run war out of the jungles, using the same guerrilla tactics which won Indonesian independence from the Dutch in 1949.

Eisenhower Up Early for Date On Golf Course

THURMONT, Md. (AP)—President Eisenhower was up early on a sunny spring morning today to drive to the Gettysburg, Pa., Country Club for a round of golf.

Eisenhower and Washington businessman George E. Allen hit half a dozen warm-up shots from the first tee. Then Eisenhower got off a 180-yard drive down the middle of the fairway and the two of them set out. They planned to play two rounds of the nine-hole course.

They made the 25-mile drive from the mountain top lodge at Camp David, near Thurmont, and were getting in their practice licks before 9 a. m.

About 150 construction workers at Camp David were given a temporary layoff to insure quiet at the mountain retreat, 65 miles north of Washington, to which Eisenhower drove yesterday.

Thor Blows Up On Launch Pad

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—A Thor intermediate range ballistic missile exploded on its launching pad at the Air Force Missile Test Center here today.

The blast was heard for miles. Persons in Cocoa, about 15 miles from the launching area, said it sounded like the dull, deep thud of a subterranean dynamite explosion.

A few people on the beaches outside the center saw the 50-ton missile blow up. There was no flame, they said, but a huge ball of black smoke rose high in the sky. A muffled roar followed the explosion.

The Air Force announced only that an attempted Thor launching was "unsuccessful due to technical difficulties."

Newsmen covering the test center were caught by surprise. In recent months, they have been given confidential advance information on such launching attempts.

It was the second "sneak" shot in two days. Yesterday, a Polaris test vehicle was fired without any advance word. The Polaris is an intermediate range weapon designed for firing from submarines.

There have been three successful firings of Thors. One flew 3,645 miles, more than twice its calculated range.

Hundreds of times every day...

Faisal Sets Two Conditions for Britain, France

CAIRO (AP)—The Premier of Saudi Arabia, Prince Faisal, has set two stiff conditions for resumption of diplomatic relations with Britain and France. Arabia severed relations in 1956 when the two countries invaded Egypt.

The conditions Faisal broadcast on Mecca Radio Friday were:

1. France to grant independence to Algeria. This France refuses even to discuss.
2. Britain to agree to solve its dispute with Arabia over ownership of the Buraimi Oasis in the potentially oil-rich area where Arabia, Britain's Persian Gulf treaty territories and Oman meet.

Britain broke off an earlier attempt to solve the dispute with an accusation that Arabia tried to bribe mediators.

Faisal also said Arabia believes in a policy of non-alliance. Both the United Arab Republic of Egypt and Syria and the Arab federation of Iraq and Jordan have extended invitations for Arabia to join them.

Appeals to Youth

LONDON (AP)—Nikita Khrushchev called upon Russian youth last night to help his campaign against the "intolerable phenomenon" of drunkenness and against moonshining.

The Soviet Premier spoke to a concluding session of the congress of the Young Communist League. Moscow Radio reported that he said, "We must concentrate our efforts on a campaign against drunkenness so as to prevent this evil from taking root."

Khrushchev urged the league to stamp out the practice of distilling spirits at home. He said that Soviet youth does not suffer from unemployment and exploitation and "has no cause to befuddle their brains with alcohol."

Redwood Perfect For Garden Use

If it's for the garden, make it of redwood.

Redwood's natural preservative resists rot, insects and weather changes. It mellows with age, actually increasing in attractiveness as time goes on.

Redwood is easily sawed, planed or nailed, and is light to handle.

Redwood garden tables, chairs, lounges, planter boxes, require no painting. Redwood's best for fencing, too, and the cost is low.

Veterans' Rights, Benefits Listed

Howard C. Shurter, county director of Veterans' Service Agency, and Peter B. Riley, state veteran counselor NYS Division of Veterans Affairs, submit another in a series of articles on rights and benefits of veterans, servicemen and other dependents.

Civil Service—New York State civil service examinations will be held on June 7, 1958 for the following positions, applications for which must be filed by May 9: Director of Mental Hygiene Social Work; Head Nurse, Tompkins County; Senior Landscape Architect; Junior Architectural Specifications Writer; Assistant Plumbing Engineer; and Senior Tabulating Machine Operator-IBM. An examination for Supervisor of Secondary Education will be held on May 24. Applications for this examination must be filed May 9, 1958. There are still immediate openings in the State for social workers, nurses, maintenance foremen, medical technicians, dietitians, planning technicians, physicians, teachers and therapists. Applications for these positions are accepted continuously.

Insurance—Persons who enter the United States armed forces are no longer automatically covered by $10,000 indemnity insurance. This protection stopped January 1, 1957. Veterans with GI insurance policies who re-enter military service should not allow their insurance to lapse on the expectation that they will receive $10,000 free coverage. If they do so, they may lose their insurance.

Pension—The remarriage of a war widow will cause her to forfeit her entitlement to a VA monthly death compensation or pension. Such remarriage may not effect the entitlement of minor children of a deceased veteran who may continue to receive VA benefits in their own right. In cases of re-marriage, it is suggested that this agency be contacted immediately to protect the rights of the children.

Loans—No down payment is now required in connection with GI loans. Veterans will still have to pay closing out costs, however, in connection with such loans. Closing out costs are the normal costs connected with purchasing property such as mortgage tax stamps, legal fees, searches, etc.

New Laws—The WW II guaranteed and direct loan program has been extended to July 25, 1960. Other important features of this new law include an increased interest rate on GI loans of 4 1/2 per cent, the allocation of $300 million for direct GI loans to veterans living in rural areas, small towns and cities, a provision which enables the Federal National Mortgage Association to buy GI and Federal Housing Administration mortgages not to exceed in excess of $13,500 on new homes, and an increase in the percentage rate on military mortgages to 4 1/2 per cent.

Questions about the rights and benefits of veterans, servicemen or their dependents may be submitted for individual attention to the New York State Division of Veterans Affairs and the Ulster County Veterans Service Agency office at 32 Main Street, Kingston.

'Hi-Fi' Now Has Natural Sequel

The great "hi-fi" movement is now being followed by a natural sequel. The trend today is to put "hi-fi" components in attractive cabinets so they don't spread all over the house and act as dust collectors.

Put-it-together-yourself kits now offer enclosures for such "hi-fi" essentials as speakers. Once assembled, cover the cabinet with two thin coats of fresh, white shellac. Allow the first shellac coat to dry thoroughly before applying the second.

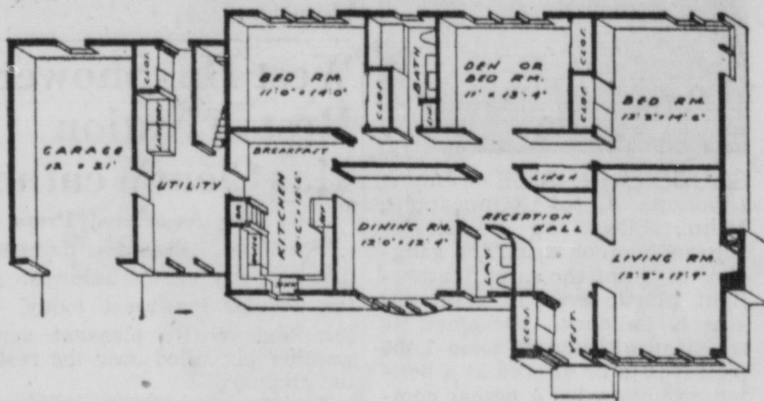

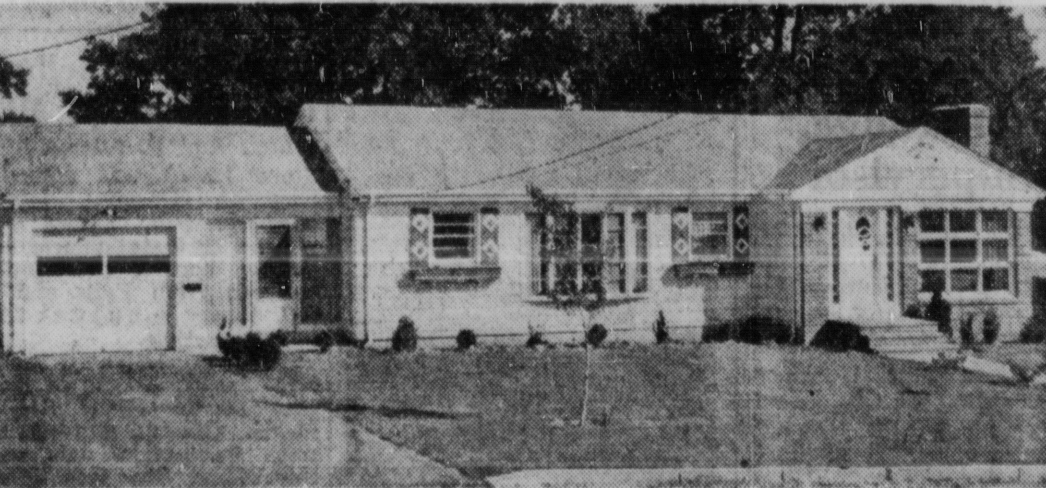

Cabinets can be made for any of the "hi-fi" parts by an ingenious wood-worker and pure shellac will protect and bring out the wood's surface beauty.

Making Ceramic Tile

Before ceramic tile is ready for installation in a home, the ingredients that go into the tile go through many purification steps. Talc, feldspar, flint and oxides are milled, washed and sifted carefully before they are mixed and sent to the kiln for forming finished tiles.

Remove Stains

To remove soft drink stains from a hardwood floor, scrape the finish off the stained area, down to the bare wood, and treat with a bleaching solution. Then when dry, smooth with fine sandpaper and refinish with shellac or varnish.

Lovely and Cheerful—'The Armbrust'

Rooms ..... Seven
Bedrooms ..... Three
Closets ..... Eight
Dimensions ..... 73' x 34'
Cubage:
House ..... 33,000 ft.
Garage ..... 3,200 ft.

Neat and picturesque, "The Armbrust," presented today by Home of the Week Plan Service will look appealing in either a city or suburban location.

Brick and wood combined as in the accompanying illustration, make an especially attractive and appropriate finish for the exterior of this six room (and utility room) house. Breaks in the roof line, the distinctive windows in the dining room and living room and the appealing shutters and window boxes all contribute to the distinctive appearance of the "Armbrust."

80' x 100' Lot Ideal

Measuring 73' x 34' this compact one-story home has a total cubage of 36,800 feet. An 80' x 100' lot would be perfect and supplies the necessary room for the home to look well in its surroundings. To give an overall appearance of spaciousness, the "Armbrust" should be situated back on the lot allowing for an approach so that the visitor may grasp the design in its entirety.

Inside this well planned modern home, the kitchen, dining room and living room are in the front part of the home. Thus the bedrooms are in the rear for more peace and quiet. A hallway isolates the sleeping area and eliminates unnecessary traffic through the living area. The compact kitchen with working area in a U-shape is so convenient that you'll look forward to preparing the family meals.

Large Reception Area

As you enter the front door there is a large reception area with a curved wall which offers a unique and pleasing effect. Guests may then go directly to the living room or dining area. A large double-sized clothes closet also makes the entrance way particularly attractive.

Two Lavatories

The living room features a large fireplace and picture window for outstanding decorating possibilities. There is more than adequate wall space for the placement of furniture in this 17' 9" x 12' 8" room.

Another feature indicative of the good planning of the "Armbrust" is the inclusion of both a regular bathroom—located near the bedrooms and a lavette near the dining and living rooms. When entertaining and during the morning rush, you'll especially appreciate this feature.

Storage, too, presents no problem for the family that decides to call the "Armbrust" their home. Throughout the house there are six spacious closets plus two large linen closets.

Utility Room Convertible
Call it what you will—utility room, TV room, family room—this area between the kitchen and the garage is an ideal play area for children on rainy days and practical too, as an area for grown-up fun. You certainly will give this utility area plenty of use.

Blueprints Available

Complete plans and specifications for this house and all other "Home of the Week" designs are available at moderate cost. Send requests for the house desired to: Home of the Week, Inc., Dept. KF, 87 Wybosset Street, Providence, R. I.

Crafty View

Just as play rooms were once in vogue, so work rooms are expected by today's home buyer. Wide availability of special power tools for home craftsmen and the desire of many manually dexterous homemakers to do more things themselves are among the factors. A good location for the work room is in the basement.

Longer Chair Legs

Stretching chair legs so junior can sit comfortably at the table is done with new hard wood extensions. The gadgets are simply slipped on to the chair legs.

Two-Way Closets Save Many Steps

There are times when being two-faced is a virtue, especially in the case of a two-faced linen closet.

This step-saving device is built into the wall separating the bathroom from the hallway. Sliding doors enclose it on either side so that the towel section may be reached from the bathroom, other linens from the hall.

Although a new-fangled design, all the advantages of an old-fashioned linen closet may be had, including a lining of western red cedar. This wood is not only decorative, but it comes with a built-in sachet which will impart a delightfully fresh, outdoors and sunshine aroma to the linens.

The sliding or hinged doors of the closet should match the built-ins in the bathroom. Among popular woods for all types of built-ins, Douglas fir and West Coast hemlock have many advantages in color, texture and grain. Cedar is a lovely wood which would also work out well for the cabinets.

Appear to Be Bigger

One way of making a small house appear larger is to use narrow widths of drop siding. Six and eight inch wide drop siding can be obtained in any of several popular wood species such as West Coast hemlock, western red cedar or Douglas fir. The narrow width siding gives a distinction to smaller homes, the West Coast Lumbermen's Association said.

Stopping Leaks

Water often leaks into a basement through the joint between the wood sill and the top of the foundation wall. Fill the joint with caulking compound. If the seam is very wide, fill first with oakum and then with caulking compound.

BUILDERS BRIEFS

Don't Bend Lid

When you pry the lid off a paint can with a screwdriver, be careful not to bend the lid. Keep it in good shape to seal the can in case some of the paint is left over.

Removing Grease

To remove grease spots from tablecloths, dust a little talcum powder on the stain. Let it set for an hour, then dust off. The powder will absorb the grease.

Finish It!

Unfinished wood collects and holds dirt. Because of its porous nature, dirt, grease, even bacteria become embedded in the wood and are difficult to dislodge.

Filler for Pine

Working with pine that looks as if it needs a filler? You can fill and finish with a thinned coat of fresh, white shellac. Another shellac coat when the first is dry will add beauty.

Smart Bathroom

A wood paneled bathroom can be cozy and warm, water-repellent and sanitary, too. Wood paneling will kill the chill and can be sealed against the moisture by an application of water-repellent pigmented stain.

Wallboard Canvas

Painting as a hobby is a growing pastime. In addition to canvas, a good piece of wallboard may be used. To seal the pores a thinned coat of pure, white shellac is applied to the clean board. Another coat is given when the first is dry.

New Tile Colors

Quarry tile, the six-inch squares of dull brick red you often see as pavement for luxury porches and terraces, is now being produced in new colors—dark brown, buff, blue, green and sand shades.

Self-Spraying Paint

Court game buffs who lack permanent court facilities can line up any suitable surface with a new self-spraying white marking paint. The aerosol product is harmless to grass and equally adaptable for use on cement or blacktop, says the manufacturer.

Lampshade Hint

Did you ever use one of your vacuum cleaner tools on your lampshades? It's the simplest thing in the world to whisk the dust from them. Dusting by other methods often hurts a lampshade. It takes a very light touch to lift the dust from a delicate texture. The vacuum cleaner has just that "touch."

Painting Stained Wall

Before repainting spots on walls that have been stained because of dampness, coat them with shellac. Be sure the area is bone dry before applying the shellac and be equally sure that the cause of the dampness has been corrected.

Balky Windows

One of the most common causes of sticky windows is hardened paint in one or more of the grooves in which the window sash is set. Insert a putty knife or similar tool under the sash—from outside the window if possible—and pry the window loose.

Check Windows

If you have metal combination storm windows and screens, check them with the screens in place during a rain. In some installations, the frame is so tightly sealed to the window sill that water coming through the screens can't flow off and eventually gets into the window frame or wall. If this is happening in your case, drill some small "weep" holes along the base of the screen frame to allow the water to run off.

Most popular way to get a home loan today

Like millions of Americans you may be dreaming of building or buying your own home. If you are, chances are you need two important things—first, money for a down payment; second, a home loan to make up the difference. Our association specializes in helping you get both these things.

Last year, associations like ours throughout the U.S. made out one of every three home loans—1,000,000 of them totaling more than $10 billion. The Insured Savings and Loan way has, in fact, become America's most popular way to finance a new home. Here's why:

1. We know more about home loans because we make more of them.
2. You get friendly understanding from our staff which is experienced in home financing.
3. You repay your loan just like rent. A monthly repayment is usually set up to include principal, interest and property taxes.
4. While you're saving for the down payment, your money earns excellent returns, and is insured up to $10,000 by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation, an agency of the U. S. Government.

Sees Milk Code As Health Hazard

WASHINGTON (AP)—A representative of one of the largest dairy farm cooperatives in the northeast testified Friday against adoption of the U. S. milk ordinance and code as the standard for all fluid milk in interstate commerce.

John C. York, executive secretary of the Eastern Milk Producers Cooperative Assn. of Syracuse, N. Y., said adoption of the code would pose "a widespread health hazard."

Satisfactory Now
In testimony prepared for delivery before a House commerce subcommittee, York said the present system of local inspection and approval of milk sources was working satisfactorily.

Proponents of the bills now before Congress have said adoption of the U. S. code would prevent the use of local milk sanitation laws as barriers against the free flow of milk across the country.

York said adoption of the code would make eligible for sale anywhere in the country milk that meets requirements laid down by the surgeon general of the United States.

"The surgeon general," he said, "would be authorized to establish a rating method for milk and to conduct inspections and laboratory examinations."

Afraid of Purity
But such procedures, York said, would not be mandatory. Thus, he argued, purity of the milk supply could easily be placed in jeopardy.

Responsibility for the sanitary quality of the milk, York said, in many instances would be in the hands of persons in distant production areas who would have "no concern for the health and welfare of the consumer using the milk, and who could not be called to account by them for any wrong doing."

The consequence of such a state of affairs, York told the subcommittee, "would be at the very least that consumers, once they got wind of what has happened, would lose confidence in the safety and purity of the fluid milk supply."

An even greater risk, he said, would be the possibility of milk-borne epidemics brought on by carelessness and incompetence on the part of those supervising dairy farm inspection.

Girl Returns Home
SPRINGFIELD, Vt. (AP)—Priscilla "Polly" Whitcomb, 20, who vanished from the Smith College campus Nov. 9, 1956, came home Friday in answer to the unfailing hope of her dad, U. S. Atty. Louis G. Whitcomb.

"We're very happy to have Polly home and I am pleased to report she is in good health," Whitcomb said.

Newsmen were not permitted to talk to the girl.

Whitcomb declined to discuss the whereabouts of Richard S. Tatcher, 21, a Northampton, Mass., restaurant worker Polly had been dating. He disappeared at the same time.

Rate Themselves Good
DETROIT (AP)—Eighty per cent of motorists involved in auto crashes call themselves good or excellent drivers and 82 per cent blame other motorists for their accidents.

The figures, based on a University of Michigan survey, were presented Thursday to the Michigan Safety Conference.

Bruce D. Greenshields, who prepared the report, said only one per cent of motorists involved in accidents say they are poor drivers.

Kitchen Adapted To Family Needs
If you have a large kitchen and small children, clear a corner for play, there they'll be under your watchful eye but not under foot.

Or, maybe you have a very small kitchen and older children. A counter-high opening in the kitchen wall through which food can be conveniently passed to the dining room, breakfast room or an outside porch may relieve crowded conditions. A snack bar is another handy step-saver.

'Size' Is Important
"Sizing" a wall before it is painted is often done to provide a uniform surface for subsequent paint coats. Plaster walls, in particular, may vary in porosity or "suction" and may contain chemicals which will impair paint performance.

Sizes are transparent liquids and in addition to use on plaster walls may be used on dry wall construction. Use of the right size in the right way is essential to a good job.

Urges Ave Sound OutCountyJudges On Court System

LOCKPORT (AP)—The president of the State County Judges Assn. wants Gov. Harriman to go to the grass roots for help in streamlining the state's court system.

In a letter Thursday to the governor, Niagara County Judge Frank J. Kronenberg asked Harriman to "seriously consider the ideas and thoughts of the county judges in any efforts you make toward court revision."

Grass Root Jurists
"County and children's court judges," he said, "are the grass roots jurists and they should be consulted. They reflect the feelings of the community."

On Wednesday a group of judges known as the Judicial Conference announced it would undertake a study of the court system.

The group is headed by Chief Judge Albert Conway of the Court of Appeals. Other members include presiding justices of the four Appellate Divisions of the Supreme Court and one representative of the Supreme Court justices in each of the four judicial departments.

"It is disturbing," Kronenberg said, "that we do not have representation of the judicial conference."

Vitality Interested
"Although we are vitally interested in court improvement," he added, "we are in no position to make suggestions or requests with consequences."

The Judicial Conference's attempt to draft a plan comes after the Legislature's rejection last month of a sweeping program recommended by the Tweed Commission and endorsed by the conference.

The commission, headed by Harrison Tweed, spent five years and an estimated $800,000 studying court changes.

In addition to rejecting the Tweed plan, the Legislature also refused to extend the commission's life.

Russell Will Attend Audio-Visual Parley
Warren R. Russell, director of Audio-Visual Education for the Kingston City Schools, is to attend the annual meeting of the Department of Audio-Visual Instruction of the National Education Association. This year's session is to be held from April 20 to 25 at Minneapolis, Minn.

Russell has been asked to serve as a consultant Tuesday and Wednesday, April 22 and 23, on "Problems in Medium-Size City Systems." Also on Tuesday he has been asked to serve as chairman of a round table on a "Code for the Audio-Visual Field."

Keynoting the entire meeting will be Walter S. Crewson Jr., associate commissioner, New York State Education Department, who will speak on the topic "Extending Educational Horizons."

Puppet Show Will Feature St. Ursula Group Garden Party

Puppet Arts of Woodstock will present "The Story of Dick Whittington" at the annual garden party sponsored by the Parents' Association of the Academy of St. Ursula, Saturday, May 10, starting with lunch in the school cafeteria at noon.

Mrs. Allen Baker, president, presided at the regular meeting Wednesday evening, when final arrangements for the garden party were discussed.

Mrs. Michael Martin, chairman, announced that she will be assisted at the various booths by Mrs. Frank Koenig, flowers; Mrs. Earl V. Tongue, dolls and balloons; Mrs. Philip F. McDonald, miscellaneous; Mrs. Robert Ker-shaw, cakes; Mrs. Vincent Cahill, lunch and refreshments; Mrs. Guido Napolitano, hand-made articles; senior class students, candy; Mrs. Thomas D. Penning of Saugerties, puppet show; Mrs. Frank H. Herd, special booth; Mrs. Lowell H. Popp, dancing on court; Mrs. Roland Augustine, adult games.

Dancing on the outdoor court is expected to appeal to teenage boys and girls.

Mrs. Baker also announced that a Mother-Daughter Communion Breakfast will be held Saturday, May 3, at the Convent. The Mass will begin at 9 a. m. in the chapel.

Junior Marrieds Hold Auction After Meeting Thursday

Junior Married Women's Club met Thursday night at the YWCA. The business meeting was followed by an auction at which Mrs. Robert Murray Jr. acted as auctioneer.

Mrs. Eugene Collins was appointed the delegate from Junior Marrieds to the YW Young Adult Eastern Regional Conference at Silver Bay in June.

Members were reminded that the week of April 21 is National Y week. The YWCA is an agency of the Kingston Area Community Chest.

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Bernard Trowbridge, chairman, and the Meses. Richard Chatham, Donald Moyer and Robert Murray Jr.

Bard Senior Readies Production for City Presentation

Steven Vinaver, a senior at Bard College, Annandale-on-Hudson, will take his second off-Broadway production to the city Monday evening.

"Divisions for Five Players," a musical revue which premiered at the college in March, will be presented for an invited audience of producers, writers and actors at the Downtown Theatre. Produced by Gus Schirmer of "The Boy Friend" fame, the musical was written and directed by Vinaver and stars five Bard students: Aline Brown, Ann Avery, Peter Shaw and Don Parker. Music was composed by Carl Davis, a music major at the college.

This is the second time that a musical written by Vinaver has been shown in New York. Last year, a group of Bardians presented "Well I Never!" at the Barbizon-Plaza Theatre. Vinaver also wrote two numbers and collaborated on two others for the hit revue "Take Five" at Julius Monk's Downstairs Room.

The entire proceeds from this annual social event will go to the Children's Home on East Chester Street.

The Mature Parent

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Child Sees Coercion Behind Parent's 'Understanding'

Gail had done a poor job of dishwashing. The plates were still sticky with soap, the glasses unrisn. Noting this sloppy work, her mother thought: "I mustn't be angry. I'll just have a little understanding talk with Gail."

So after calling the child's attention to her mistakes, she said, "You know, dear, when you're grown-up and have a home of your own, your husband will expect you to take care of it. There's nothing a man dislikes so much as a slatternly wife. I know it takes time from looking at TV to rinse the dishes, but these are the years when you have to learn to take time to do chores well. Do you understand?"

Gail said, "Yes, Mother. Can I go now?"

Shocked and disappointed by this result of her effort to "understand" Gail, her mother said angrily, "Indeed you cannot! You do those dishes properly before you move an inch from this kitchen!"

Then she retreated to the living room to brood resentfully over the child's rejection of her "understanding."

It was rejected because it was coercion masquerading as understanding.

Gail hasn't a home of her own. She hasn't a husband to please by doing chores properly. She's a 12-year-old child intent on 12-year-old affairs. So far as she was concerned, her mother's "understanding" was just yank about a future that had no substance—a round-about way of saying, "Do the dishes again."

Life becomes much easier for parents when we stop confusing "understanding" a child with selling him obedience.

If we want obedience, let's demand it honestly. But if we have to understand Gail, we have to forget what we want in order to discover what she wants. Then we compromise our different wants.

We say, "All right, you hate dishwashing. How about doing them three nights a week instead of seven? If I do them the other four nights, will you clean the bathroom on Saturday mornings?"

Many of us think we are giving "understanding" to children when we are just belaboring them with our own reasons for wanting them to obey. We are trying to force submission from them without inviting the open defiance we fear.

They know this—and have no respect for such poney understanding. (All rights reserved, NEA Service, Inc.)

Forestry College Offers Booklet On Care of Trees

SYRACUSE—"What kinds of trees should I plant? How should I take care of the trees I have already?"

If you are a property owner, right about now you are probably asking yourself questions like these.

The State University College of Forestry at Syracuse University has designed a special publication to help you select trees suitable for your needs . . . and it tells you how to care for them properly. The title of the 16-page pamphlet is, "Your Native Shade Tree."

Free Copy Available

To obtain a free copy of "Your Native Shade Tree," send a postal card addressed to:

Forest Extension Dept., State University College of Forestry at Syracuse University, Syracuse 10.

The author of "Your Native Shade Tree" is Dr. Howard C. Miller, assistant professor of biological science and forest extension entomologist and pathologist at the College of Forestry. In the pamphlet, Dr. Miller summarizes the basic factors and principles involved in tree planting and care.

Commenting on the booklet, he said:

"The college's forest extension department hopes that the information will help all New York State property owners to grow thriving trees—trees which will be valuable additions to their property."

Booklet Lists Factors

"Your Native Shade Tree" gives advice about the selection of trees. It explains in detail such factors as:

Size or area, type of soil, surrounding plants, common pests, etc.

Dr. Miller discusses the characteristics of native trees that are often planted in New York State. Among the hardwoods described are:

Oaks, maples, elms, poplars, willows, black willows, locust trees, birches, nut trees, tulip trees, and ash.

Softwoods mentioned include the pines, spruce trees, hemlocks and cedars.

Suggestions Offered

"The future growth of a tree, its appearance, health and resistance to pests are influenced by transplanting and planting procedures," emphasizes Dr. Miller. "The publication offers detailed suggestions."

Watering, fertilizing and pruning hints are also given. The booklet concludes with a listing of publications about tree care which may be obtained from state and federal agencies.

"Your Native Shade Tree" is the ninth in a series of free pamphlets the State University College of Forestry at Syracuse University is distributing this spring. Colorfully illustrated, the booklets are designed to provide the public with the latest, authoritative information on tree insects, fungi and plant diseases.

The entire series is an integral part of the year-round extension program of the College of Forestry.

Think It Through

By E. F. HUTTON
WHO SAID "GIVEAWAY"?

Originally, the Marshall Plan was to cost not more than 17 billion $'s and to be completed within four years, Paul Hoffman was the "giveaway." At its expiration, to hoodwink our people, the name was changed to Mutual Security.

Truman used the same method. When the people were fed up with the New Deal, he changed it to the Fair Deal. The Marshall Plan is now the Mutual Security Program.

In the 1952 Campaign, General Ike stated: "The United States cannot be an Atlas; it cannot, by its financial sacrifices, carry all other nations of the world on its shoulders, and we should stop giveaway programs."

If that statement is correct, why does he say now that "we accept our deepest involvement in the destiny of men everywhere . . . high will be the cost?"

Neighbor, you don't have to be a grave digger to find out what this is costing the taxpayers.

The "giveaway" (the President's own word) started with 14 nations; now it's 67. In 1948, we employed 571 "giveaways." In '53, the number increased to 4,465. By December '57, it hit 12,095. Now take a peek!

The "givers" presently employed by the Departments of State and Defense bring the total to nearly 19,000. From '48-'57, the grand "giveaways" totaled 36,131, all on fixed salaries, and funds distributed now approach 70 billion $'s instead of 17 billions.

Teen-Agers Are Killed As Auto Runs Into Tree

BRIDGEPORT (U)—Two teen-agers were killed and two others hospitalized last night when their automobile struck a tree about two miles south of this community near Syracuse.

Carleton E. Van Loven Jr. of Minoa, and Miss Nina Reschke of Cleveland, N. Y., both 19, were killed.

Pamela Moore, 15, of North Bay, was in critical condition at Crouse Hospital.

The fourth occupant, Donald Van Loven, 18, of Canastota, was in fair condition at the same hospital.

State police said the car failed to make a slight curve on Route 298, glanced off one tree and wrapped itself around another.

Among the Kingston area members planning to attend are: Michael J. Cervini Jr., Angelo J. Corrado, Raymond F. Borg, Ronald P. McKeefrey, Joseph E. Costello, Franklin G. Crusius, William McConnell and Catherine Cater.

4 Children Die In Tenement Fire

MIDDLETOWN, Conn. (U)—Four young children died last night in a tenement apartment fire.

The victims were the children of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Davis—Janet, 4, Bryan, 2½, Sally, 1½, and Wendy, one month.

Police said the father was out for the evening and the mother had just left the three-story building to borrow an iron from a neighbor. The family is Negro.

Firemen said the fire probably began in a kitchen oil heater.

CBS Strike Ends, 1,300 Going Back

NEW YORK (U)—Striking Columbia Broadcasting System technicians today started back to their jobs in eight cities. The network's operations are expected to be normal by midnight.

The 12-day strike of 1,300 technicians ended yesterday. Pickets were with drawn immediately from CBS-owned radio and television stations throughout the country.

Margin Is 7-4

The International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, announcing the end of the walkout, said an agreement with CBS had been approved by the strikers by a margin of about 7 to 4.

An understanding between the union and the company was reached Thursday and submitted to the strikers in a referendum. A union spokesman said a three-year contract provided for a 6.4 per cent wage rise retroactive to Feb. 1, with another 2.4 per cent increase effective Aug. 1, 1959.

The striking cameramen, engineers and other technicians had earned from $92.50 to $175 weekly after four years under the terms of the pact that expired last Jan. 31. Under the new agreement, the top wage goes to $190.

Walked Out April 7

The cities affected were New York, Hollywood, St. Louis, San Francisco, Milwaukee, Chicago, Boston and Hartford, Conn.

Union members in these cities walked off their jobs April 7 after rejecting a company offer of a 6 per cent wage increase.

During the strike, CBS executives manned cameras and control panels. Some television programs were canceled or rescheduled.

Completes Course

Army Pvt. Vincent R. Turck, son of Thomas N. Turck, 13 Willow Street, recently completed the electrical course at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo. Pvt. Turck was taught to install interior wiring and fixtures and to maintain small-capacity generators and transformers. The 17-year-old soldier entered the Army last January and completed basic training at Fort Dix, N. J. He attended Kingston High School.

Hoover Satisfactory

NEW YORK (U)—Former President Herbert Hoover, who is 83, underwent a gall bladder operation today at Harkness Pavilion of the Columbia Presbyterian Medical Center. The operation began at 8 a. m. and ended at 9:15 a. m. The hospital said his condition was "satisfactory."

'Beer Party' Broken

Officers Edward Leonard and Guernsey Burger Jr., during their tour of duty Friday night, came upon what they reported was a "beer party" being held by three teenagers near the George Washington School.

The three boys were brought to police headquarters and their parents notified.

The beer bottles were confiscated.

How to Squeeze Out Small Slam

By OSWALD JACOBY

Written for NEA Service

Today's hand is the same as yesterday's except that West has opened a trump. How can you make the hand against this trump opening and the 5-1 club break?

You start by winning the opening lead and playing the ace and a small club. If clubs break 4-2 or better, you only need ruff one club in dummy and the second trump lead can't hurt you. However, West ruffs your low club and leads another trump, whereupon you are left with two losing clubs and only one trump for them. The hand looks hopeless but it isn't. Note that queen of spades in dummy and the king of spades in the West hand.

You do ruff one club in dummy and return to your hand with the ace of spades. Now you just run out all your trumps and your last three cards will be your singleton heart and the king and a small club. Dummy will hold ace-small in hearts and the queen of spades and both hearts will be good.

Some Bright Spots Prevail As Canada Feels Port Slump

OTTAWA (U)—Canada's ocean ports are feeling the pinch of a world shipping slump. But there are some bright spots.

Shipping traffic on the whole for Canada in 1958 may not keep pace with 1957, and that was not one of the better years.

Montreal's inland harbor, the country's largest port, is feeling the cargo pinch more than other ocean outlets, although it expects passenger traffic to hold firm and perhaps match 1957's total.

Less Gloomy Reports

In Manitoba late-opening Churchill, icebound until July, is looking to heavy grain movement. Vancouver also indicates good grain shipments and higher lumber cargoes. These are some of the less gloomy reports.

The St. Lawrence Seaway, due to open next year, will change shipping patterns for ports from the eastern seaboard to the Great Lakes. For many harbors, 1958 will be the last normal year before a new deep water route opens Canada's mid-continent markets to world shipping.

A Canadian Press survey shows prospects for 1958 shaping up like this:

Uneasy in Montreal

Montreal—Shipping men, watching a slow start to the present season, seem uneasy. Their forecast: No better than 1957 when some cargo tonnages fell as much as 20 per cent. The harbor handled 15,800,000 tons of cargo last year, compared with 18,400,000 in 1956. Grain, cement, crude oil were down badly.

Pig iron, scrap, motor vehicles and parts were up. European automobiles, ton-for-ton, are the big items so far this year. Grain prospects—down one-third in 1957 at 86,450 bushels—may improve, but then depend largely on west coast freight rates.

Halifax Expects Average

Halifax—An average summer is expected. Mainly a winter terminal when the St. Lawrence is ice-blocked, Halifax hasn't felt much change in summer traffic.

Saint John, N. C.—A slight increase in tonnage—chiefly due to heavier grain movements—gave Saint John a busy climax to winter traffic during December, January and February. The shipping agents say it's too early to see the shape of summer business.

Toronto Hopeful

Quebec City — Port Manager Louis Beaudry sees no real change from "last year when cargo totaled 3,700,000 tons, compared with 4,280,000 tons in 1956. Grain exports last year reached 18,500,000 bushels, a drop from 26,900,000 in 1956.

Toronto—A growing ocean port as foreign lines send in pre-sea-way cargo vessels to build customers for a business boom after the seaway opens, Toronto again is looking to a good season.

Golden Rule Ketch Is In Hawaiian Waters

HONOLULU — The ketch Golden Rule reached Hawaiian waters last night en route into the U. S. Pacific nuclear test zone on a cruise protesting further nuclear tests.

Former Navy Lt. Cmdr. Albert Smith Bigelow, the skipper, radioed Honolulu friends he was within sight of Oahu and planned to bring the Golden Rule into Honolulu's harbor today for a five to six day layover.

U. S. authorities are expected to halt the yacht if its crew attempts to sail into the forbidden Marshall Islands test zone.

The Atomic Energy Commission April 11 banned U. S. citizens and persons subject to U. S. jurisdiction from entering, attempting to enter or conspiring to enter the 390,000 square mile danger zone.

Aaron Burr, once accused but acquitted as a traitor, was a native of Newark, N. J.

Meany Bids Ave Reject GOP Bill On Anti-Rackets

ALBANY — George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO, has joined the ranks of labor leaders who want Gov. Harriman to veto a Republican anti-rackets labor bill.

In a telegram from Washington yesterday, Meany told Harriman the bill was one-sided against labor unions.

He declared: "The American labor movement is prepared to support properly drawn legislative measures which will genuinely aid it in purging its ranks of corrupt individuals. This bill, however, is completely one-sided and defective in detail. I therefore recommend you veto it."

Meany thereby joined Walter Reuther, head of the United Auto Workers union, and state AFL and CIO leaders in opposing the bill, which is designed to restrict the financial dealings of union leaders.

Republican leaders say their bill was based on recommendations of one of the Democratic governor's own study committees. However, Meany said, the bill does not reflect the report fairly.

"The provisions as to accounting practices provide a penalty for violation by union officers, but none for violations by officers of employer associations," he said.

"The bill is in conflict with the National Labor Relations Act in that it prohibits union grievance committees from receiving their regular wages for time spent conferring with the employer during working hours," he said.

Cash, Ring Are Taken From Area Drive-In, Report

Some $50 in cash and a $1,000 diamond ring were taken from D-D's Drive-In on the Saugerties road some time during the night.

Trooper David Wachtel of the Kingston state police reported this morning that entrance was gained by breaking a pane of glass in a rear window and opening the window.

Albert DiDonna, proprietor, told state police that he had left the ring in the refreshment stand last night by mistake.

Wachtel said some cash was taken from a cigar box and that several coin machines had been pried open with knives. He described the burglary as a real "amateur job."

No cash had been left in the cash register, he reported.

An attempted burglary at Joe's Esso Station, also on Route 9W not far from D-D's, was also reported. Wachtel said that a rear window was broken out but that the station had apparently not been entered.

Car Recovered

A passenger car stolen from the parking lot of a Saugerties supermarket March 31 has been recovered by Kingston state police. The vehicle, owned by Game Protector James Overbaugh of Lake Katrine, was found in a wooded section in High Woods, Michael Sisto, on whose property the vehicle was abandoned, notified state police. Trooper David Wachtel reported that windows in the car had been smashed out.

Many Visit New Housing Area in Port Ewen Friday

Hillbrook Estates, a proposed 170-unit housing project in Port Ewen, opened officially on Friday afternoon with numerous visitors filing through a newly opened three-bedroom model home.

Two of the homes are now standing on the attractive rolling terrain which lies a short distance west of Route 9W not far from the new Port Ewen School. The site is at the corner of Clay road and Salem road.

The modern homes, engineered by American Houses, Inc., will sell for $11,990. Sales agents are Craft-Caunitz Realtors, 42 Main Street, Kingston.

The model home, set in a lot 80 by 110 feet, was officially opened yesterday with a small party. Several score persons visited the home during the afternoon.

Charles Homfeldt of High Falls will serve as project representative for Craft-Caunitz.

The builder, Hillbrook Estates, has long been active in the building field in Westchester County. American Houses, Inc., is one of the oldest builders in the country with some of the nation's top architects associated with it, according to a spokesman for Hillbrook Estates.

It was pointed out that the homes will have a "spirit of comfort and ease . . . combined through our own special magic, with moderate prices guaranteeing long happiness for you and your family. In their styling too you can see the promise of lasting pride. Designed by famous American Houses, they are modern enough to be up-to-date, with enough of the traditional to insure permanent value. And there's top quality every inch of the way."

The plots will be seeded and shrubbed — estate-like plots. Other features: Colored tile bath with built-in vanity, linen closet plus unique laundry arrangement; living room with picture window; combination family-dining room; scientific kitchen with built-in wall oven, range, exhaust fan, Aristocrat cabinets and Formica tops; double hung windows; all copper plumbing; insulated and weatherstripped; plenty of closet space; gas fired forced warm air heat with individual ducts to each room; blacktop driveways; redwood and shingle exteriors; elementary school at property; school bus to Kingston junior and senior high schools; walking distance to local shopping area; city gas, water and paved roads. Garages and car ports are optional.

The model home is now open daily for inspection.

Hold On, Chief

PAULS VALLEY, Okla. (AP)—Jacob Martin, 73, a Choctaw Indian, was charged with assault and battery in connection with the beating of his 23-year-old wife, Sheriff Tom Abney said the Indian told him: "Her need it long time."

Coed Rules Out Love Upon Return to Home

SPRINGFIELD, Vt. — Brunette Priscilla "Polly" Whitcomb, who vanished from the Smith College campus for 17 months, says she voluntarily broke off her romance with a handsome parole violator because she could not continue living "a life of false pretenses."

The 20-year-old daughter of U.S. Atty. Louis G. Whitcomb told newsmen she intends to stay home until she makes plans for the future and "these plans do not involve any other individual at the present time."

Faces Auto Charge
Richard S. Thatcher, 21, the restaurant counterman for whom Polly left school in November 1956, was taken from Boston to Northampton, Mass., late yesterday to face a charge of unlawfully obtaining an automobile by trick or fraudulent representation.

The charge is based on Thatcher's renting of a car before the pair disappeared. The car was found later in a Boston parking garage.

Polly's statement that her plans at present involve no other individual was somewhat at variance with the tone of a letter she left Thatcher when she started home. The letter, disclosed in Boston, said: "I am sure we can settle this quietly, love. I'll be in touch with you. I love you very, very much."

Not Married
Boston police quoted Thatcher as saying he loved the girl and wanted to marry her. He said they had not married through they lived at three addresses in Boston under the names of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kutz.

A letter found among Thatcher's possessions, signed "Love, Polly," asked Santa Claus to bring "365 days of health and happiness for my sweet, long-suffering, hard-working husband."

Thatcher, from Evanston, Ill., was paroled from Colorado State Reformatory in 1955 after serving a sentence for passing a bad check. In the fall of 1956 he obtained a job in a coffee shop across the street from the Smith College campus in Northampton. It was here that he and Polly met.

Father Overjoyed
Colorado authorities said he has been listed as a parole violator since his disappearance.

The girl's father, overjoyed over her return at midnight Thursday night, brushed off questions about her activities by saying: "I'm interested in only one thing, and that is my daughter's welfare. Let's just say she was a teen age girl being foolish and wanting to run away."

Bans Campaigning

ROME — The Italian government has banned political campaigning for the May 25 parliamentary elections from the state-operated radio and television systems.

Premier Adone Zoli said yesterday no party could broadcast because they had failed to agree on his proposal for distribution of available time. Some politicians said Zoli's plan favored his Christian-Democrat party.

WELL STARCHED

This worker in Kaohsiun, Formosa, isn't shy. She's wearing the typical costume of starch dryers on the Nationalist Chinese island. The towel over her face, sunglasses, tapered straw hat and gloves protect her from burns as the hot sun beats down on the snow-white starch, which she turns to dry evenly. It will be used in free China's fast-growing textile industry, as well as confectioneries and laundries.

One of Charles Combs' farmhands at Olney, Ill., knew a sure-fire way to get rid of those wasps in the barn. He would burn them out. It worked. The wasps went up in smoke. So did the barn, 5,000 bales of hay, 2,000 bushels of barley, a shed, a garage, three drums of gasoline and 200 loads of manure.

Saugerties Complete Plans For Mt. Marion School Dedication

Final plans for the dedication program of Mount Marion elementary school have pretty much been completed, Dr. Grant D. Morse, superintendent of schools, said today.

The event is scheduled for Sunday, April 27, at 4 p. m. William Ziegler, president of the Board of Education, will preside. Platform guests will include members of the board, including two former members, Ernest Schirmer, and Mayor George Holmes, who have been members of the board at some time since centralization.

Members of the school staff, including Miss May Evans, grade supervisor, and Edward R. Leonard, teaching principal, at Mount Marion, will also sit on the platform. Others who have been invited to sit on the platform are Morris Rosenblum, of the firm of attorneys to the board, Rosenblum and Lamb, and members of the contractors firms: D. Kenneth Sargent, and Sarkis Arkell, of the architects firm Sargent-Webster-Crenshaw and Polley.

The reserved seat section has been arranged for present and former members of the Citizens Advisory Committee, provided such members have indicated by letter to the Superintendent of Schools that they will be able to attend.

Following the dedication program, the building will be open for inspection until 6 p. m. Members of the cafeteria force under the direction of Mrs. June Myer, dietician and cafeteria director, will be in attendance. All members of the faculty will be in their rooms following the program. All interested people from the Saugerties Central Schools District are invited to be present as far as the auditorium will accommodate them.

Saugerties Adult Education Exhibit Scheduled May 2

A very attractive and interesting exhibit of work done in the Saugerties Central Schools adult education classes will be held in the Main Street School auditorium Friday evening, May 2 in connection with the Education Week program, according to Dr. Grant D. Morse, superintendent of schools.

Articles completed in the adult education classes and examples of the subject matter covered in many courses will be on exhibit at that time. Among the many articles to be displayed are ceramic objects, charcoal, pencil and colored sketches, furniture, hand-wrought metallic objects, draperies, slip-covers, numerous garments made in the sewing classes, hooked rugs, attractive knitted articles, and artistic photographs he said.

Examples of the subject matter covered in such courses as medical aid, typewriting, stenography, landscaping, refresher course for equivalency tests, English for foreign-born adults, physical fitness for women, driver education, great decisions — 1958, and science will also be exhibited.

The materials will represent the results of the efforts of over 500 adults who have been enrolled in classes, and their instructors. Among the adult educators, teachers who will have work on display will be Eugene La Plante, Glenn Hunter, Charles Schumacher, Graham Barkhoff, Miss Antoinette Zibella, Mrs. Joseph Lahoud, Mrs. Raymond Bonestell, Mrs. William Wilson Jr., Malcolm Bump, Miss June Overbaugh, David Jones, Mrs. William Jacobs, Donald Mullet, Leon McLaughlin, Robert Moser, Rudolph Kaiser, Miss Jeannette Spring, and Miss Mildred Brady.

The public is cordially invited to attend this annual adult education exhibit.

Saugerties High Senior Ball Theme Announced

The Class of 1958 of Saugerties High School has chosen Saturday, May 17, for its annual Senior Ball.

In keeping with the times, the theme will be "Out of This World." Decorations will include a backdrop picturing a rocket ship, while throughout the auditorium little men will be piloting space ships in readiness for the grand satellite race with Explorer I in its elliptical orbit about the earth.

Qualified young space cadets should secure co-pilots as soon as possible to be prepared for the grand launch. Be sure to purchase your bright blue passport to space from any member of the Senior Class. The music for this ethereal atmosphere will be provided by Wendell Sherer's orchestra and tickets may be secured from any member of the graduating class.

U. S. Envoys Leaving

VIENNA — The U. S. Embassy in Prague said its second secretary and consul was packing today after Communist Czechoslovakia charged him with spying and ordered him to leave.

Washington called the charges against Joseph R. Jacyno "a frameup."

Jacyno has a wife and two children with him. An embassy spokesman said it would take him some time to wind up his affairs. He probably will leave Czechoslovakia some time this weekend, however, for an undisclosed destination.

Announcing the ouster, Prague Radio said the 41-year-old diplomat from Lawrence, Mass., had obtained espionage material from a Czech citizen recently arrested. Czechoslovakia has been conducting a number of trials recently of alleged spies for western powers.

Two Are Hurt In Local Mishap

Two persons were injured slightly in a two-car accident at Pearl and Green Streets on Friday night, and one of them, a driver, was arrested on a charge of passing a stop sign.

Officers George Dougherty and Richard Scherer reported at 11:30 p. m. that the cars involved were those operated by Robert Edward Withall, 18, driving a sedan owned by Arthur H. Withall, of Rifton, and another sedan operated by William Posnanski, 18, of Ulster Park, and owned by Anna Posnanski, same address.

Police said Young Withall suffered a bump on the head, and Carolyn Sexton, 14, of Box 229, Rifton, a passenger in the Withall car, a scraped knee.

Withall was arrested on Posnanski's complaint on a charge of passing a stop sign. A hearing is scheduled in city court Tuesday night.

Police said the Withall car sustained damage to the right front end and the Posnanski vehicle was damaged on the left rear.

Streaking Meteor Causes Near-Alert

MONTREAL — A brilliantly flaming meteor streaked across southern Quebec skies last night, causing a near-alert at the Royal Canadian Air Force station at nearby St. Hubert.

First, reported by ground observer corps units, the object was tracked by radar. An air defense command spoke a man said no planes were sent up from St. Hubert.

"We double-checked with Ottawa and the Dunlop Observatory in Toronto," he said, "and they identified it for us."

Capt. Bartholomew Gosnold was the first white man in New England. He landed near New Bedford in 1602.
